COAL MINERS QUIT TONIGHT

HARDING DREAM MADE TRUE AT LAST BY SENATE

Ratification of All Treaties Complete.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—(Special.)—With the ratification of the new power treaty, relating to China, and the Chinese tariff treaty, the senate today completed American approval of the achievements of the international conference on the limitation of armaments.

The new power treaty was approved unanimously by the sixty-five senators voting, and the tariff treaty by a vote of 41 to 1.

The seven treaties representing the understanding of the powers to preserve peace in the Pacific, reduce the burden of taxation for naval armament, and free China from menace and aggression will be returned to the President tomorrow with the senate's formal assent to each.

Only One Change in Entire Group.

To only one—the four power Pacific treaty—there is any qualification attached by the senate. This reservation records the understanding of the United States that the pact is not an alliance and does not bind the nation to the use of armed force. President Harding will accept this reservation and will notify the other signatories that he is ready to exchange ratifications of all the treaties. The other powers are scheduled to act on the treaties within the next two or three months.

President Harding manifested profound gratification at the prompt acceptance by the senate of the results of the armaments conference, which ended its labors only last month. The communication is widely regarded as a high tribute to the statesmanship which brought about the arms conference and the pact which enabled the President to pilot the pact to ratification without encountering the rocks on which President Wilson's undertaking came to grief.

Here Are the Seven Treaties.

The seven treaties ratified are:

The 5-53 naval agreement providing for the scrapping of nearly 2,000,000 tons of fighting ships and for a ten year naval holiday between the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France, and Italy.

The four power pact designed to keep the peace in the Pacific by binding the United States, Great Britain, France, and Italy to keep hands off each other's insular possessions and to communicate fully and frankly with each other as to the most effective means of action in case of an aggression by an outside power.

The treaty between the United States, Great Britain, France, Japan, and Italy restricting the use of submarines and banning noxious gases in warfare.

A declaration accompanying the four power treaty reserving American rights in mandated territory and making it clear that domestic questions are not to be submitted to international adjudication.

A supplementary treaty excluding the Japanese mainland from the scope of the four power pact.

The nine power treaty laying down new principles and policies to be followed by the powers in relation to China and designed to preserve the "open door."

The Chinese tariff treaty providing for increased customs duties on imports into China, to enable the Chinese government to raise more revenue.

Windup Is Peaceful.

The conclusion of the ratification proceedings in the senate was peculiarly devoid of dramatic or spectacular finish. All the fight appeared to have gone out of the opposition, and there were only a few persons in the galleries to witness the closing scene.

Senator Borah (Idaho), Republican "irreconcilable," spoke in favor of the nine power treaty. He expressed hope that it would prove a benefit to China and that it would not be interpreted as a ratification of all the wrongs that have been perpetrated against the Chinese people.

Underwood "Father" China Treaty.

The Chinese tariff treaty was the personal handiwork of Senator Underwood (Ala.), Democratic leader. He explained it to the senate, assuring his colleagues that every particle of it was acceptable to the Chinese delegates. Senator King (Utah), Democrat, insisted that it was not acceptable to the Canton rebels.

When the roll was called on ratification Senator King was the only one recorded in the negative.

LOVE MYSTERY IN SHOOTING OF YOUTH IN STREET

The police are confronted with a mystery in the shooting of Matthew Frey of 228 Swann street, a 19 year old machinist of the Rock Island railroad.

Frey was found with a bullet wound in his abdomen under the Rock Island structure at 47th and Dearborn streets late last night. Questioned by Lieut. Daniel Lynch of the Stockyards station while in the ambulance en route to the county hospital, Frey murmured that a tall, light colored man, wearing a long overcoat and with a cap drawn down over his eyes, had approached him and without a word fired three times, one shot taking effect, and had fled.

He then lapsed into unconsciousness. Revived at the county hospital and questioned by Lieut. Michael Golden of the 50th street station, he gave another description of his assailant, which did not tally with his first. Under further quizzing he admitted he had just come from the home of a young woman who, he claims, is his fiancée. He said he and the girl were to have been married several months ago, but for reasons he did not state the marriage had been put off. He said the girl, it appears, had urged an early ceremony, but Frey had agreed to postpone it.

Frey is believed to be dying, and it is the theory of the police that he is shielding his assailant.

OFFICER ON ROPE TAKES MAN FROM NIAGARA'S BRINK

Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 30.—Jeffrey Wilson of Rochester, N. Y., was rescued tonight from a rock in the Niagara river less than 200 feet from the brink of the American falls.

Shortly after dark tonight employees at a trolley terminal station near the falls heard cries for help. They saw a form clinging to a rock near the middle of the American rapids below Goat island bridge.

Police and firemen attempted to reach the man with extension ladders, but they were too short. Several ladders with ropes attached were lowered into the water from the bridge, but they lodged among the rocks before reaching Wilson.

Then Patrolman Charles Smith waded out into the rapids. Fastened about him was a rope, which was held by Patrol Driver Charles Radford on the bank. One hundred feet from shore Smith was caught in the current and swept from his feet. After a struggle he regained his footing and worked his way to a rock a few feet from that to which Wilson was clinging.

Smith could be seen from the shore urging Wilson to jump to his arms. After a few minutes Wilson made the leap and the policeman caught him. The trip back to shore was a slow struggle against the swift current.

Wilson said that he had fallen into the water, and denied that he had attempted suicide.

HUGHES DARES COURT CONTEMPT

Five Writs in One Day Arouse His Ire.

For several hours last night Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes faced a possible imprisonment for contempt of court as a result of a clash with the judiciary.

Five writs of habeas corpus, issued by four different judges, all in the one day, brought about the differences between the police and the courts. When the fifth writ was issued it found the chief of detectives fully defiant.

This fifth writ was issued by Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court. It called for the appearance at 10 a. m. of John E. Miller, arrested on a larceny charge at the request of the Grand Rapids police. Accompanying the writ was a $4,000 cash bond approved by the judge.

Clerk Appears at Bureau.

Judge Fisher's clerk appeared at the detective bureau and demanded the release of Miller only to find the chief of detectives adamant.

The clerk hastened after Judge Fisher, whom he found at the Princess theater. The judge returned to his court and summoned Hughes before him. Again the chief of detectives refused to release his prisoner, telling the judge he would have to consult the corporation counsel first.

Judge Fisher made no threats, but when the detective chief returned to the bureau he was under the impression that he faced trouble this morning. He was relieved from his predicament later in the evening when Chief Fitzmorris called him on the telephone and ordered him to release Miller.

Concerned "Pawnshop Arrests."

The other writs of habeas corpus which had earlier aroused the ire of the chief of detectives all called for the appearance of men arrested in connection with the robbery of the pawnshop of Marcus Nierman, 3130 South State street, on March 20. The police claimed the robbery was a frameup. The writs, the persons for whom they were issued, and the judges issuing them were:

Writ for Meyer Gordon, accused of purchasing $15,000 of stolen jewelry, issued by Judge Fisher.

Writ for Joseph Fishman, manager of pawnshop, issued by Judge Joseph B. David.

Writ for Walter Annerino, issued by Judge Hugo Fann.

Writ for John P. Flannery, issued by Judge Michael L. McKinley.

All the writs were returnable at 10 a. m. today.

ALLIES ADMIT U. S. RHINE ARMY CLAIM IS JUST

By FLOYD GIBBONS.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, March 30.—The French and Belgian governments today accepted in entirety the American claim for full Rhine army costs as outlined by Secretary of State Hughes.

The French acceptance was embodied in an especially cordial note which the Quai d'Orsay delivered to Ambassador Herriot for transmission to Washington. This note is only an individual acknowledgment by France of the American note, pending a joint reply, but it states the French attitude concisely. Premier Poincaré, who wrote the note, does not discuss the procedure between America and the allies for settlement, but he emphasizes the point that France would expedite the payment of the American claims.

The Belgian government communicated an informal and identical reply to the American embassy at Brussels.

Neither government makes a plea to keep the American army on the Rhine, although it is possible that they will do so in a joint reply.

HALF MILLION MEN TO STRIKE IN 26 STATES

Defeat for Unions Is Predicted.

By ARTHUR EVANS.

At midnight tonight the coal strike goes into effect. Some 500,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America in some twenty-six states are to quit work in the anthracite and bituminous fields. In Canada, too, a few fields may be affected.

International officials of the union at Indianapolis last night declared the walkout will proceed without a hitch. Final strike notices were posted yesterday at pits where union miners are employed and the officials say that tomorrow, April 1, will find the unionized fuel fields idle with none left at the pits but pumpmen and others necessary to maintain the properties.

In their final word, union officers again stressed the view that the tieup will not be a "strike," but a "suspension of work" due to the expiration of the working contract April 1 and the lack of any new wage agreement.

Capital Efforts Fail.

At Washington the administration, viewing the strike as inevitable, explained through Secretary Davis its bootless effort to prevent it. Mr. Davis says the industry is on trial before the public and the government will maintain a "hands off" policy unless there is violence or a coal shortage which would imperil the national welfare.

One or two twentieth hour efforts to avert the strike, set afoot in congress, failed, and the house committee on labor started its hearings on the strike.

Men Who Will Go Out.

Reports from various parts of the country last night indicated that the unions estimate that in the various fuel states the number of men who will be "out" tomorrow is as follows:

Illinois	90,000	Kentucky	15,000
Indiana	30,000	Maryland	1,000
Ohio	40,000	Mississippi	2,000
Iowa	15,000	Missouri	7,000
Pennsylvania	4,000	Montana	4,000
Wisconsin	100,000	New Mexico	2,000
Arkansas	110,000	Oklahoma	7,000
West Virginia	30,000	Tennessee	4,200
Alabama	4,000	Texas	2,400
Arizona	2,000	Utah	2,000
Colorado	5,000	Washington	5,200
Kansas	10,000	Wyoming	7,800

Illinois Closes Tight.

Some districts will be closed up tighter than a drum—Illinois, for instance, which, through the operation of the competency certificate act, is automatically a "closed shop." Other such as Pittsburgh, which refused to enter a four state wage conference as stipulated in the last agreement, plan to run the mines, regardless of the walkout. Notices of wage cuts were posted yesterday at many mines in western Pennsylvania and Ohio—the region is expected to be the focal point of the controversy. Indiana operators, it was indicated, would travel along with the Illinois operators and close down.

Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, at Springfield, still seeing in separate district agreements "the salvation of the miners' union," declined to discuss the strike beyond placing the blame for the situation upon J. L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, and asserting that Lewis "star is setting."

Kansas May Enjoin Strike.

Kansas, as forecast, through its industrial court, is preparing to act. A hearing was held yesterday, and reports from Topeka last night were that the court may issue a temporary order calling on the Kansas miners to keep on the job despite the strike order. Union leaders in the state were non-committal as to whether such an order would keep the men at work.

Many of the mines will close when the supper whistle blows this evening. Union officials declare that large numbers of nonunion miners will join with them in the suspension of work, but operators are disposed to take these claims lightly.

About 40 per cent of the soft coal miners of the country are unorganized, according to the current estimate. The output of the nonunion fields has reduced the pressure of the 1919 strike, when winter was on and fuel demand was at its height; the chief demand, by the way, for the concentrated effort of the international to organize West Virginia, Alabama, and other nonunion regions. The nonunion fields, where wages have been deflated, have been working more steadily than the union fields for months past. Whether they will join in to any extent remains to be seen.

Record Strike, Public Apathetic.

One remarkable phase is the indifference shown by the public in general. The approaching strike is the largest in the history of coal conflicts in the

Rich Aurora Girls Missing; Kidnaping?

For twenty-four hours, it became known last night, the police have been vainly seeking clues in the disappearance of two young daughters of a wealthy Aurora manufacturer. So far not a trace of them has been obtained.

They are 13 year old Ruth and 9 year old Virginia Burk. They left their home at 1115 Wednesday afternoon to return to school. Neighbors saw them walking up the street, swinging their books and laughing and talking. Since then they have not been seen.

Mother in Collapse.

Their father is W. H. Burk, an official of the Lyon Metallic Manufacturing company of Aurora. The family is prominent in the suburb's social life. There are two other children. Mrs. Burk, who has suffered a collapse, is now under care of physicians.

Ruth, described by her acquaintances as a remarkably pretty child and of brilliant intellect, was in her freshman year at the West High school. She had previously attended the Sacred Heart academy at St. Mary's, Ind. Virginia was attending the Mary Todd public school.

No Threats Made.

No strange automobiles were seen in the vicinity of the Burk home Wednesday, but the police are investigating a theory of kidnaping. However, Mr. Burk says he has received no threatening letters or demands for money.

"If they are to be held for ransom," said an Aurora police official last night, "but we won't be positive of that until we hear from the supposed kidnapers. The case is the most baffling I have encountered."

One in High School.

The first act of the police after being notified by Mr. Burk was to visit all the railroad and interurban stations. None of the ticket agents remembered selling the girls tickets. A large reward will be offered today, it is said, for information as to their whereabouts.

SIGN PACT TO MAKE IRELAND LAND OF PEACE

Collins and Craig to Co-operate.

By JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, March 30.—The Irish conference reached an agreement tonight under which, it is believed, real peace can be realized in Ireland.

The southern provincial government and the Ulster officials agreed to co-operate in ameliorating conditions in all sections of the island. Catholics, chosen by a committee of Catholics, will be given places in the reorganized Ulster constabulary. The southern government will strive to prevent Irish army activities in the six northern counties. The British government will provide more than $2,000,000 to aid the jobless in Belfast.

Sees Step to United Ireland.

Arthur Griffith, president of the Irish Free State, made the following statement to THE TRIBUNE tonight: "The document we Irishmen on both sides signed tonight will later on, if carried out in the spirit of the signatories, give us a unified Ireland. Every sensible, honest Irishman, whatever his creed, yearns for such an Ireland. We stand for it, and despite prejudices of the past, we feel that we are on the threshold of its achievement through understanding and good will."

New Irish Peace Terms.

The terms of the agreement were announced in the house of commons by Winston Churchill, colonial secretary, as follows:

FIRST: Peace is declared today.

SECOND: From today the two governments undertake to co-operate in every way in their power with a view to the restoration of peaceful conditions in the unsettled areas.

THIRD: The police in Belfast are to be organized in accordance with the following conditions:

(a) Special police in mixed districts to be composed half of Catholics and half of Protestants. All specials not required for these forces to be withdrawn to their homes and to surrender their arms.

(b) An advisory committee composed of Catholics will assist in the selection of Catholic recruits for the special police.

(c) All police on duty, except the usual secret service men, to be uniformed and officially numbered.

(d) All arms and ammunition issued to the police to be deposited in barracks in charge of a military or other competent officer when policemen are not on duty, and an official record must be kept of all arms issued and ammunition used.

(e) Any search for arms to be carried out by a police force composed half of Catholics and half of Protestants, the military rendering any necessary assistance.

FOURTH: A court is to be constituted for the trial without jury of persons charged with serious crimes, the court to consist of the lord chief justice and one of the lords justice of appeal in northern Ireland.

FIFTH: A committee is to be established in Belfast with equal numbers of Catholics and Protestants, and with an independent chairman, preferably a Catholic or a Protestant alternately in successive weeks, to hear and investigate complaints of intimidation, outrages, etc., such committee having direct access to the heads of the government.

SIXTH: Irish army activities are to cease in the six counties and thereupon a method of organizing special police in the six counties outside of Belfast shall proceed as speedily as possible on lines similar to those agreed to in Belfast.

SEVENTH—During the month immediately following the passing into law of a bill confirming the constitution of the Free State, being the month within which the northern parliament is to exercise its option and before any address in accordance with Article XII of the treaty is presented, there shall be a further meeting between the signatories of the agreement with a view to ascertaining (A) whether means and to exercise restraint in the inter-land or (B) failing this, whether an agreement can be arrived at on the boundary question otherwise than by recourse in the boundary commission under the treaty.

British to Furnish Financial Aid. EIGHTH—The return to their homes of persons expelled is to be secured by the respective governments, and the advice of the committee mentioned in Article V. is to be sought in cases of difficulty.

NINTH—In view of the special conditions consequent on the political situation in Belfast and neighborhood, the British government will submit to parliament a vote, not exceeding £500,000, for the ministry of labor in northern Ireland, to be expended exclusively in relief work, one-third for the benefit of Catholics and two-thirds for Protestants. The northern signatories agree to use every effort to secure the restoration of the expelled workmen and wherever this proves impracticable owing to trade depression, they will be afforded employment on relief work.

Article X provides for the release of political prisoners. The agreement was signed on behalf of the provisional government by Michael Collins, Eamon J. Duggan, and Arthur Griffith; for the northern government by Sir James Craig, the Marquis of Londonderry, and E. A. Archdale, and for the imperial government by Winston Spencer Churchill, Sir Lansing Washington-Evans and Sir Hamar Greenwood.

"Rebels" Try to Get Navy. [Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] DUBLIN, March 30.—Republican army men from Cork and vicinity seized a large tug belonging to the British admiralty and steamed out of Queenstown harbor this afternoon. The rebels then captured a boat carrying British military supplies to England. A British destroyer later captured both the tug and the British supply boat. Cork soldiers also commandeered more than twenty trucks from commercial firms and disappeared, cutting wires along the roads and felling trees behind them.

The Irish republican army guard at the Bank of Ireland, with their officers, have gone over to the republicans, according to an announcement at republican headquarters tonight. It is understood that the disbandment of 12,000 southern members of the royal Irish constabulary has been indefinitely postponed because of conditions in Ireland. Great Britain still has 25,000 troops on the island, mostly in Dublin and Cork.

Asked His Religion; Shot. BELFAST, March 30.—[By the Associated Press.]—William Moore, 21 years old, was stopped by a group of men in the Springfield road district this afternoon and was asked what religion he professed. When he replied that he was a Protestant he was shot. James Lyle of Drumore was shot while walking in Joy street, in the Sinn Féin district.

Two special constables, Hall and Moody, were shot tonight while walking on the street. There were several big fires in the city tonight, supposedly of incendiary origin. The death of Samuel Mallen, whose body was found in the White Rock road yesterday, appears to have been in the nature of an execution. It is learned that he was taken from a party of men who had been barred from their places of work and who were awaiting their unemployment doles and was escorted to the place where his body was afterward discovered.

CHARGES FLY AT CULLERTON IN HOT FIRE QUIZ SESSION

"Lid Comes Off" Today, Armitage Declares.

"The lid will come off in this investigation tomorrow," Chairman E. R. Armitage of the joint select committee investigating the recent west side fire, declared last night in announcing that Business Manager John F. Cullerton of the fire department will be called to the witness stand today.

Cullerton was the center of a whirlwind of questions at yesterday's session of the committee, which was presided over by Fire Marshal O'Connor.

Article X provides for the release of political prisoners. The agreement was signed on behalf of the provisional government by Michael Collins, Eamon J. Duggan, and Arthur Griffith; for the northern government by Sir James Craig, the Marquis of Londonderry, and E. A. Archdale, and for the imperial government by Winston Spencer Churchill, Sir Lansing Washington-Evans and Sir Hamar Greenwood.

The same resolution expelled from the marshals' association Assistant Chief Carmody and Egan for "treachery and disloyalty to the association." The charges, according to the defendants, were based on their refusal to go along with other members of the association, led by Assistant Chief John G. McDonnell in an effort to keep Mr. Cullerton, who is a civilian, from getting the appointment as business manager.

The marshals' resolution which Assistant Chief McDonnell admitted he drew up, contained many venomous phrases. It likened Cullerton to "a virulent parasite," declared the ordinance creating his job was "smuggled through the council by a combination," and declared that Egan and Carmody, friends of Mr. Cullerton, were guilty of "convinced, double dealing, and treachery."

Others to Be Investigated. After the resolution was read Chief McDonnell, leader of the fight on Cullerton, asked that in as much as the committee had pried into the affairs of the marshals' association, the engineers' association, the captains' club, and the Mutual Aid and Firemen's Benevolent association be investigated. The suggestion was adopted.

The most startling piece of evidence in connection with the disastrous west side fire was the statement of W. D. Matthews, chief engineer for the local underwriters' association, that he has evidence that "at least one person had knowledge of the fire as much as twenty-five minutes before the apparatus arrived."

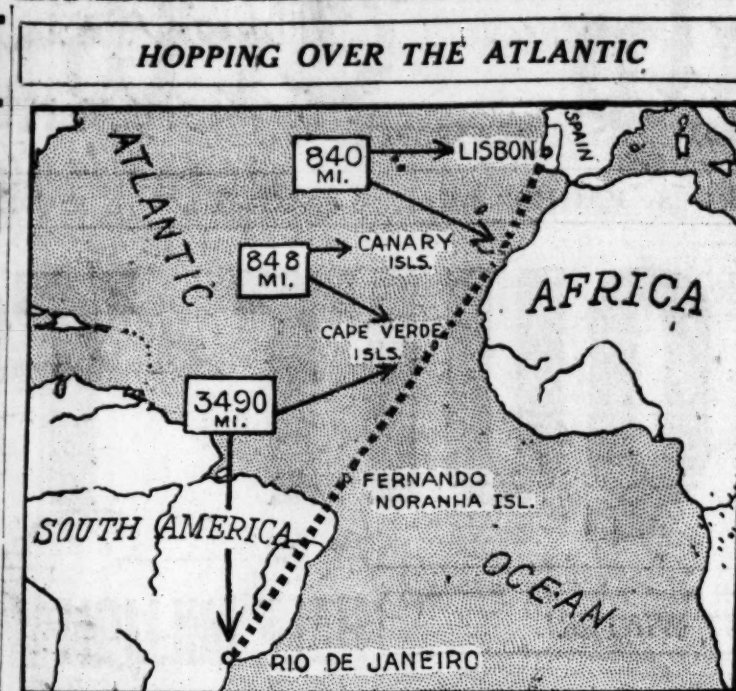

Mr. Matthews gave the name of this person to State Marshal John G. Gamber confidentially. Mr. Gamber said he would question him in an attempt to find the man who made the telephone call. Records of the telephone company are also being checked. A check for $1,000 from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, payable to the Policemen's Benevolent association, was received by the association yesterday in recognition of the service of the police at the fire.

RADIO IS USED BY SENATOR NEW IN CAMPAIGN

Washington, D.C., March 30.—[Special.]—Political campaigning by radio was inaugurated tonight by Senator New of Indiana, who is a candidate for reelection. The senator, who is unable to leave Washington because of his duties here, sat at his desk in the senate office building and addressed a mass meeting of women in Indianapolis.

He delivered his speech into an ordinary telephone transmitter, which was connected with the Arlington radio station. The latter broadcasted the address, which was picked up by the receiving station at Indianapolis and transmitted to the mass meeting through voice magnifying.

Tomorrow night Miss Alice Robertson, representative from Oklahoma, who is a candidate for reelection, will address her constituents in the same manner.

Cacadura and Cogliano, the Portuguese naval aviators who started from Lisbon this morning in an attempted flight to Pernambuco, Brazil, arrived safely at the end of the first stage of their journey, Las Palmas, in the Canary Islands, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The hydro-airplane which the airmen are using made the flight from Lisbon to Las Palmas at the rate of approximately ninety miles an hour.

COUPLE ASPIRE TO ROOSEVELTIAN FAMILY BY PROXY

Harry C. Calhoun, a horseholder of Hartford City, Ind., accompanied by his wife, appeared before County Judge Frank Righelmer yesterday and petitioned that they be allowed to adopt Mildred East and Georgiana Dowling each ten months old.

During the hearing Calhoun revealed that, in accordance with his admiration for the principles of Theodore Roosevelt, who urged the rearing of large families, he and his wife had already adopted six children, the eldest of whom is now 19 years old. Judge Righelmer granted the petition and Calhoun left at once for his Indiana home, with the children, who will be known as Helen and Harriette Calhoun.

BIRDS AND BEES ARE BEST "CURE," SAYS DAN BEARD

The city dweller with high strung nerves, the flapper sucking her cigarette, and the "cake-eater," given to bell bottom trousers and waxy waist clothing, were advised to return to nature by Daniel Beard, veteran woodsman, nature lover, and honorary vice president of the Boy Scouts, at the final session of the national council of Boy Scouts held yesterday in the Hotel La Salle.

"Let them frolic among the birds and the trees," urged Mr. Beard, "and they will soon forget about raw nerves, hysterical jazz, and hip liquor. The young people of today are not in touch with nature any more. The city life, away from natural influences, tends to physical degeneration and every one living such a life should get out into the wilderness occasionally, where he can live the purely strenuous life of the nature lover."

A resolution advocating the adoption of Esperanto as a means of communication between Boy Scouts the world over was introduced by Huston Thompson, chairman Third region of Boy Scouts and formerly a member of the federal trade commission.

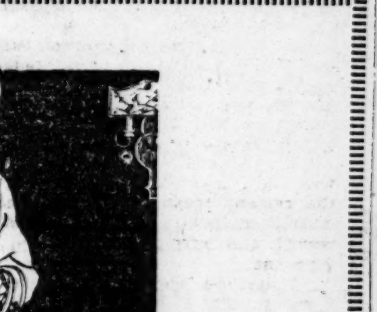

The resolution was referred to the national executive committee for further consideration.

STORY WRITER LETS WRONG MAN WIN THIS TIME

Harry Leon Wilson Loses Fist Duel to Artist.

San Francisco, Cal., March 30.—[Special.]—Classic Carmel, the habitat of writers, painters, and other literary and artistic folk, is a-buzz with gossip today over the sensational fist battle staged last Saturday on a lonely bluff overlooking the Pacific between Harry Leon Wilson, noted author, and Theodore M. Criley, noted landscape artist.

Wilson went down to defeat after a bitter and terrific battle vowing that he was not through but had just begun. He lost the fight, but he gained a fiction plot that probably will be worth many thousands of dollars to him.

It was not, however, a desire to create a sensation that led to this romantic but bloody battle; it was a hatred that had smoldered for months and which finally burst into flame after Wilson had carefully trained himself for three months and then issued a formal challenge to Criley.

Criley to Honolulu to Train.

The feud began with the community production of "Pomander Walk," in which Criley played the hero and Mrs. Wilson portrayed the heroine. The love scenes between the two during rehearsals are said to have bred a jealousy in the heart of Wilson which would not down. He is said to have written Criley a twenty page letter of love. Then he prepared to depart for Honolulu to put himself in physical condition and notified Criley of his intention.

For three months the author walked, swam, and boxed during the course of preparation, then he returned. The formal written challenge was sent to Criley, who accepted the second named, and all other necessary arrangements completed.

Only a few intimate friends in Carmel knew of the proposed encounter. In the morning they met at the appointed spot. The ground was paced off and both men, with their seconds, awaited the signal.

Wilson Heavier but Older.

It is said that Wilson weighed 185 and Criley 145. Wilson is 55 years of age and Criley 45.

Wilson stood stripped to the waist, his feet nervously shuffling the ground while he awaited the word to begin. His eagerness was reminiscent of the old fighting methods of the late Terry McGovern. As soon as Criley stepped forward, after having stripped off his coat, Wilson rushed in and landed a terrific blow on his opponent's cheek. Both men wore soft riding gloves, and the impact of their punches tore the skin and left a bloody smear.

From the very beginning Criley appeared under restraint. He had promised his wife that he would not strike his first blow. As the first of Wilson landed on his cheek he staggered from his force. Wilson, following the principle that many battles are won in the first round, quickly followed his first smash with a second to Criley's other cheek, again bringing the blood and almost closing the artist's eyes.

A Fight for Vengeance.

Then it was that Criley pulled himself together and sailed in earnest. To toe the two notables stood, exchanging punch for punch and exacting blood for blood. There were no regular rounds. When one man went down the fight paused long enough for his seconds to pull him to his feet, refresh him as much as possible, and the battle was resumed. No sparing, no fancy feinting or "pretty" exhibition was this battle. It was a fight between two men inspired by primitive instincts whose sole desire apparently was to satisfy a vengeance.

After three minutes of grueling action a well directed blow sent Wilson to the ground. His seconds—a grocer and a literary friend—pulled him to his feet.

Criley stood calmly waiting for the attack and it came in the shape of a rush that would have brought any ringside crowd to its feet cheering. Tactics were thrown to the breeze of the Pacific that swept over the perspiring and bleeding combatants. Criley kept his feet throughout the encounter, but Wilson went down four times.

Until he could bare himself to

"Broken Promises"

Abe Bender and Miss Nettie Lasser.

"Life with him was one merry round of cabarets, midnight suppers, and theaters for more than two years," said Miss Nettie Lasser yesterday, describing her romance with Abe Bender, member of the Bender Brothers Cooperative company, 1320 Hastings street, which culminated in September, 1919, with Bender's refusal to fulfill his promises of marriage.

Miss Lasser filed suit for $25,000 damages as a result of this breach of promise just one month after Bender is alleged to have said "I am simply tired of her; I could never marry her now."

Just before the little fisty party broke up and the participants went their separate ways Wilson is reported to have said to his victorious opponent: "You win but don't think you are through with me. I've just begun." To this Criley merely bowed calmly, saying: "I am always at your service."

Created the "Flapper."

Harry Leon Wilson is noted both as a story writer and playwright, the dramatization of some of his stories having proved successful. Of the latter, "Bunker Bean" is most widely known, and to "The Flapper" in this story and play the English language now owes a word that has come to stay. Wilson's "Ma Pettigrew" stories are familiar, and his "Ruggles of Red Gap" was widely read and witnessed on the stage.

HOMELESS BABES TRAFFICKED IN HERE, CHARGE

Developments revealing Chicago as the center of a widespread traffic in illegitimate children loomed as a possibility as Dr. Charles Virden, state welfare agent, arrived yesterday to investigate circumstances under which a Loganport, Ind., matron, now in jail there, obtained custody of at least two babies—possibly four.

The woman is Mrs. William F. F. Libby, wife of a traveling salesman for the Knickerbocker Manufacturing company of Chicago. According to Dr. Virden, she has confessed to obtaining custody of infants here a short time ago by answering advertisements. She did not comply with adoption requirements of Illinois, and violated Indiana law by bringing the children in without proper procedure.

The traveling husband was led to believe the babies were born to Mrs. Libby. They have been brought back to Chicago as state wards, and one was placed in a private home.

ROAD RIVALRY STIRRED TO WIN VOTES FOR SMALL

Routes to Go to the Town Favoring Governor.

Kankakee, Ill., March 30.—[Special.]—The town of Peotone gave 800 votes for Gov. Small in 1920 and therefore the Joliet-Kankakee road should be routed through that village. That was the argument of A. B. Hallock, a Small booster at a hard road hearing this afternoon at which 600 voters were present.

Gov. Small tonight spoke before an audience that packed a local theater. That hard roads are within his gift to the people and that candidates pledged to vote against his impeachment are his principle need and present desire were made plain. Other speakers including Senator Richard R. Meents and Representative William P. Holaday, now a candidate for congress, were loud in their praise of the governor and severe in their condemnation of the "interests" that seek to crush him.

Try to Settle Road Route.

At the afternoon meeting C. R. Miller, director of the state department of public works and buildings, was in charge, and Frank T. Sheets, superintendent of highways, and Clifford Older, chief highway engineer, were present. Several towns in the county are endeavoring to have the new road routed through them.

One of the tentative routes is through Bradley and Bourbonnais and thence to Wilton Center. The other is by way of Peotone and Manteno. Proponents of both routes presented their arguments, but no decision was reached in the afternoon. Among speakers who lauded the governor were John L. Keniston of Manhattan and John A. Mayhew, city attorney of Kankakee. They said little about roads, devoting themselves almost exclusively to politics.

County Judge James T. Burns, a Democrat, favored the Bourbonnais route, as did the Rev. J. D. Curley, president of St. Viator's college.

Jobholders Pack Hall.

In the evening the Small boosters were augmented by 500 jobholders from the state offices and the insane asylum.

Gov. Small spoke mostly of roads, his candidates and his persecutors. It was said that he was well qualified to speak on roads, his property being the most favored in Kankakee county, a hard road going a mile beyond the city limits to pass his residence at a cost of $5,000 to the taxpayers and a mile of good road costing $22,000 separating two of his farms.

The cement trust, the traction barons and The Chicago Tribune, Senator Medill McCormick and Attorney General Brundage were blamed for highway dictatorship. The $20,000,000 yearly obtained by the street car company in charging 3 cents more than he thought was right and his refusal to permit the cement trust to rob the people were given by him as the causes which moved the interests to seek his indictment.

"I shall be watching the wires on primary night to see if you people are interested in good roads and the selection of good candidates who will support me in the legislature. You know who my friends are and if you are friends of mine, you will send them back to aid me in fighting for you," was his closing remark.

A. E. F. Veteran Sells Blood to Feed His Wife and Kids

Omaha, Neb., March 30.—F. W. Smith of Omaha, overseas veteran, who has been unable to find steady work to support himself, his wife and two children, today earned $25 offered by a physician for a pint of blood for a transfusion operation.

HELD AS "BANDIT QUEENS"

Vera Drago (to the left) and Edythe Gillmore, alias Edith Benson, are being held by the police, who accuse them of being concerned in fifty holdups. Edythe Gillmore is said to be particularly handy in the use of an automatic pistol.

2 BANDIT QUEENS AND AID CAUGHT IN HOSPITAL TRAP

Man Confesses Over a Hundred Robberies.

Two daintily dressed bandit queens, one of whom is said to have wielded an automatic with telling effect, and one of two escaped convicts from Joliet, accused of more than fifty holdups in the last seven weeks, are under arrest as a result of a visit of one of the young women to the Lakeview hospital to have a slight operation performed on her neck.

Those under arrest are John G. Bahns, alias John Benson, who escaped from Joliet on Feb. 6; Vera Drago, who says her home is in Sycamore, Ill., and Edythe Gillmore, alias Edith Benson, a divorcee, whose home is said to be in Chicago. Joseph Geister, alias Joseph Geister, who escaped from Joliet with Bahns, is believed to have been wounded by bullets fired at him by detectives as he was fleeing from the Lakeview hospital Wednesday night.

Previously Seized Feb. 26.

The two young women and three men were arrested in a café at 39th street and Cottage Grove avenue as robbery suspects on Feb. 26 by Detective Sergeant William Cusack. At that time the Gillmore woman, who said she had just come to Chicago from Minneapolis, was found to be carrying an automatic. The men proved alibis and both they and the woman were released when the Gillmore woman charged that the weapon had been "planted" on her.

But for weeks the police had been trying to trap two holdup men who were operating with the aid of two women companions.

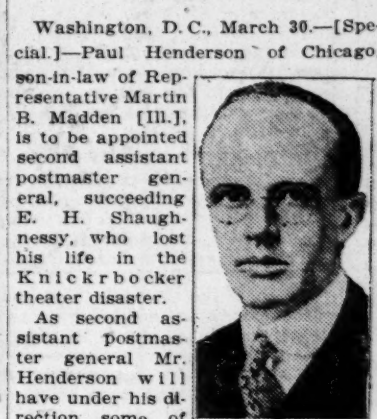

Get "Hospital Cuck."

On Wednesday night Lieut. William O'Connor notified Lieut. Axel Jensen and his squad that information had been received that Bahns and Geister had been operating in the Hyde Park district and in Edgewater. They were told that a woman giving the name of Edith Benson was at the Lake View hospital and that Bahns was operating under the name of Benson.

At the hospital it was ascertained the woman had given her address as 4440 Clifton avenue. At that address it was learned two men and two women had engaged rooms there last week.

CHICAGOAN WILL BE POSTMASTER GENERAL'S AID

Paul Henderson Is Kin of Congressman Madden.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—Paul Henderson of Chicago, son-in-law of Representative Martin B. Madden (Ill.), is to be appointed second assistant postmaster general, succeeding E. H. Shaughnessy, who lost his life in the Knickerbocker theater disaster.

As second assistant postmaster general Mr. Henderson will have under his direction some of the most important activities of the post office department, including the railway mail service and the air mail.

Mr. Henderson, who lives at Hinsdale, Ill., is connected with the Andrews Engineering company of Chicago. ## HARDING SENDS MESSAGE FOR CANADIAN MEET

President Harding's message of brotherhood to Canada on the occasion of United States-Canadian week, April 2-8, will be read at a great mass meeting at the Auditorium next Friday evening which will be the climax of the Chicago celebration of the week. The celebration is an international affair sponsored by Kiwanis International.

J. F. Cornelius, president of the All-Chicago Council of Kiwanis Clubs, and Justus Chancellor, president of the Lawyers' Association of Illinois, returned yesterday from Washington, where they were received by the president. He expressed deep interest in the Kiwanis plan to celebrate 104 years of peace between the two nations, and to promote closer business relations between them, and promised to issue a statement which will be read at the meeting and broadcasted all over the United States by radio.

Gov. Sprout of Pennsylvania will be the principal speaker for the United States at the Auditorium mass meeting, and Ernest C. Drury, premier of the province of Ontario, will speak for Canada. Other Canadian speakers will address Chicago clubs during the week, and United States speakers will address meetings in Canada. J. F. Cornelius leaves Sunday night to speak in Kingston and Kitchener, Ont., on Monday, returning to Chicago Tuesday to assume charge of the Chicago program.

A parade will formally open the local celebration tomorrow afternoon. The parade will form in Grant Park, at the foot of Eighth street, at 3 o'clock, and move north in Michigan avenue to Randolph street, west to State, south to Jackson, and west to La Salle, where it will disband.

WALSKA MAKES COUNTER CHARGE AGAINST COCHRAN

New York, March 30.—[Special.]—The report from Paris, published today, was the first suggestion that any counter charge by Anna Walska was to be made as the basis of a suit for divorce against Alexander Smith Cochran, Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Cochran, declared in a statement late today.

"This eleventh hour yarn, apparently inspired by Mr. Malone from Paris, is the first time anybody has suggested that Mrs. Walska-Cochran has any complaint against Mr. Cochran, or that she contemplated bringing any suit against him," Mr. Untermyer said.

"We have been holding off the filing of the papers against this lady for over two months in response to the urgent and repeated appeals of the lady's lawyers. Mr. Cochran came all the way from Europe in order to sign the complaint in his suit for an absolute divorce on the grounds of her various acts of alleged misconduct."

Mrs. Walska, who was for a time with the Chicago Opera company, but retired after a dispute with Mary Garden, is a native of Warsaw. Her first husband was Arcadie d'Elghorn, a Russian, who is said to have died in Russia in 1920. Her second husband was Dr. Joseph Fraenkel, a pioneer and successful practitioner in the field of endocrinology. She married Mr. Cochran after the death of Dr. Fraenkel.

Lieut. William F. Childs, the only colored policeman in the United States who ever rose to that rank, will retire today after twenty-five years' service.

He joined the police department Dec. 14, 1896. Two of his companions, appointed at the same time, were Max Noonbar and Wesley Westbrook.

For the last eight years Lieut. Childs was assigned to the identification bureau. He was recognized as an expert finger print man, also of the Bertillon system of identification.

WHY FINANCIERS OF GERMANY GO CRAZY; READ THIS

Trillions, Billions, but What's a Mark?

[Copyright, 1922, By New York Times.]
BERLIN, March 30.—[By Wire.]—The Reichsbank's total turnover last year was 20,090,000,000 marks. Its net profits were 64,800,000 marks. It declared a dividend of 10 per cent.

Marks are now worth about 300 to one dollar.

In 1920 the turnover was 12,770,000,000 marks, its net profit 53,100,000 marks and its dividend 8.7 per cent.

These figures, illuminating Germany's financial position, were among the many given by the Reichsbank president, Herr von Havenstein, to the annual stockholders' meeting.

Losses on Foreign Exchange.
The Reichsbank suffered a loss on foreign exchange of $3,000,000,000 marks last year, as against 4,100,000,000 marks in 1920, "as a result of the Reichsbank assuming guarantees for foreign credits," and the cost of printing Germany's depreciating money was 262,100,000 marks last year, as against only 37,000,000 marks in 1920.

Operating expenses were 339,400,000 marks, as against 206,100,000 marks in 1920.

"The unfavorable development of German exchange during the last year covered by the report," the report says, "assumed forms which at times virtually signified the collapse of German currency and against which all attempts of the central note bank to check the fall were doomed to failure in advance."

Faith in Germany Vanishing.
"The reasons for the marks' fall were, on the one hand, vanishing faith in Germany's financial strength which could not fulfill by regular ways and means its obligations mounting with the depreciation of money, and this despite the strongest application of the tax screw; on the other hand, and above all, the colossal debt balance, particularly caused by the unbearable reparations performance, further by amounts payable abroad for ships, freights, interest, expenses, and amortization of the steadily increasing foreign indebtedness, and so forth."

Herr Havenstein told the stockholders the Reichsbank had paid the greatest part of its silver holdings abroad for a $5,000,000 gold mark loan. Likewise it had been forced to give up $5,000,000 gold marks of its gold reserve in completing the first one billion gold mark payment on reparations.

TROTSKYRANTING OF A NEW WAR WITH ALL EUROPE
MOSCOW, March 30.—[By the Associated Press.]—War Minister Trotsky, just returned from a troop inspection on the southwestern front in the region opposite where Gen. Wrangel and other "white" leaders are reported to be concentrating forces, addressed the Communist congress today, saying:

"If the soviets are to be attacked by the whole European bourgeoisie, perhaps the soviets will reintroduce a war of communism, which would be more merciless than during the civil war in Russia."

Referring to internal politics the war minister said:

"If our enemies draw the conclusion that admitting the speculation into Russia means we must call to power the speculator's policy, then, in our eyes, they are making a mistake."

YOUTH ACCUSED AS ABDUCTOR OF GIRL SUES HER PARENTS

An echo of the recent alleged abduction of Frances Waddell, 19 years old, daughter of Arthur L. Waddell, 2302 Lunt avenue, was heard yesterday when Attorney W. L. Kelley and Alex Jamieson filed suit for $100,000 against the girl's parents on behalf of Clayton Merwin, who was accused of the abduction.

Merwin, who lives at the Delta Phi Theta fraternity house at Prairie avenue and East 21st street, following her release from custody at the House of the Good Shepherd on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Fitch on the petition of Merwin, Miss Waddell had been placed in the home to protect her from Merwin, according to Waddell.

Merwin was released from jail yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, after having been in custody for sixty-five days, and is said to have left the jail in a taxicab with Miss Waddell.

The filing of the suit, which also includes Capt. Morgan Collins of East Chicago Avenue station as a defendant, followed.

PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS NOT AT LOGGERHEADS

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—A live partisan hubbub broke out in the house today when Representative Mondell [Wyo.], Republican leader, in a carefully prepared speech undertook to demonstrate that complete harmony exists between President Harding and the Republican organization in the house.

Democratic members, led by Representative Garrett [Tenn.], acting leader, and Representative Garner [Tex.], promptly took advantage of the occasion to review the various important issues upon which the President and the house have differed.

Where Differences Have Shown.
They enumerated the bonus, the army and navy bills, the tariff, and surtaxes as questions upon which there has been little harmony between Mr. Harding and the house Republicans.

Representative Mondell vigorously berated newspaper writers who have been attempting to make the country believe that discord exists between the President and the house over the bonus, the army and navy bills, and other big measures.

President and Congress at One.
"The fact is that instead of the President and the congress being at loggerheads, as these writers and journals would have the country believe, there has never been a time in my quarter of a century of experience in congress when the relations between the President and the congress, particularly the house of representatives, were more pleasant, cordial, sympathetic, and harmonious than at the present time; and while I am speaking primarily from the viewpoint of the majority, my statement applies, I believe, in the main equally to the minority," Mondell said.

If there is no difference between the President and the congress, then there is a very woeful and distressing difference between the President and his own secretary of war," said Representative Garrett, "and this also applies to the secretary of the navy," Mr. Garrett added.

Fire, of undetermined origin, destroyed the interior of a four-story building occupied by the John T. The refrigeration plant on the second floor was destroyed and several ammonia tanks burst, hampering the efforts of firemen.

BRITISH FIRMS OFFER TO SET UP BIG AIR SERVICE
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, March 30.—It was announced this afternoon that a strong syndicate, in which Vickers, Ltd., an armament firm and the Shell oil group are interested, has made a bid to the government for the acquisition of all government airships and plants now on the disposal list with a view to organizing an imperial airship service between Great Britain and its dominions. Airships are to be used for long distance carriage of freight and passengers, while the airplanes are to be used for intermediate services.

Among the conditions asked are a subsidy of $1,000 (roughly $394,000 yearly from the imperial government and $40,000 ($173,000) each from India and Australia until the undertaking is self-supporting. One of the chief arguments is that thus, at cheap cost, an airship service can be kept together which will be available with little alteration for war purposes.

The government is asked to transfer free all existing ships, equipment and bases, but the existing ships only will be used for training crews.

It is proposed to use in the service ships of the LZ-125 type, similar to Spanish-American pattern ships, which will be built by the Vickers plant. The ships will be capable of carrying 100 passengers, ten tons of mail, and cruising at a speed of sixty miles an hour.

BRITISH EMPIRE TAKES BIG GROUP TO GENOA PARLEY
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, March 30.—Austen Chamberlain announced in the house of commons today that the nations of the British empire will be represented at the Genoa conference. Australia will have one delegate and a staff of four, Canada two delegates and a staff of four, South Africa one delegate, and New Zealand will be represented by the British delegates. The total of the British delegation will be more than 100.

Mr. Chamberlain said it would be impossible to estimate the cost, as the delegation would be the guests of the Italian government, and the only cost would be that of traveling and incidentals.

Answering a question why the staff would be larger than the Washington staff, Mr. Chamberlain said the general scope of the Genoa discussion will be larger than that at Washington, and the language will not be English. He promised that the British committee would do nothing without giving the parliament an opportunity for discussion.

Direct telephone service between London and Genoa was established today.

"HANDS OFF" IS POLICY OF U. S. IN COAL STRIKE

To Act Only in Case of Trouble, Davis Says.

BY GRANT WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—The federal government, viewing the coal strike as inevitable beginning at midnight tomorrow, is preparing to safeguard the public welfare whenever it is menaced by the conflict between the miners and the operators.

Secretary of Labor Davis, speaking for the administration, issued a statement today declaring that the strike places the coal industry on trial, criticizing operators who refused to enter a joint conference with the miners at the government's behest, assuring federal protection of the public welfare, and asserting that attempts to boost coal prices because of the strike would bring prompt action from the attorney general.

Government Won't Interfere.
Secretary Davis made it clear the administration has no desire to force conditions upon employers or employees in the controversy, indicating that the federal government purposes to maintain a "hands off" policy unless there is violence which demands government interference, or a coal shortage which would imperil the welfare of the country.

In the opinion of Secretary Davis there is little danger of a serious coal shortage in view of the large stocks on hand—65,000,000 tons of bituminous and 10,000,000 tons of anthracite, according to government figures. Non-union production, Secretary Davis estimated, would meet at least 50 per cent of the normal needs of the country.

Eleventh Hour Peace Plan Fails.
Coincident with the statement from the secretary of labor, the house committee on labor began hearings in an investigation of the coal situation and Representative Nolan (Cal.), chairman of the committee failed in an eleventh hour effort to avert the strike when Senator Borah (Iowa), chairman of the senate committee on labor, declined to join with him in seeking a conference with President Harding tonight to see if some means could not be found to prevent the strike.

"As the strike in the bituminous coal industry is inevitable," Secretary Davis said, in the conclusion of a long explanation of the situation, "the industry is squarely on trial before the public."

Seen as Economic Dispute.
"At this stage it is simply an economic dispute in which the chief sufferers will be the operators and the miners themselves. During the strike the administration will watch developments and be ready to safeguard the public welfare whenever it is menaced."

"A government survey indicates that on April 1 there will be in stock or storage about 10,000,000 tons of anthracite and bi-product coke and 65,000,000 tons of bituminous coal. This means that the railroads, public utilities, manufacturing industries, and retail coal dealers will have on hand nearly two months' supply of coal. The operators state that the production from non-union mines will meet at least 50 per cent of the normal needs of the country.

No Excuse for Price Boosting.
"On the strength of these facts there will be no excuse for advance in coal prices. If the price is boosted in any locality, the fact should be reported to Washington at once for action by the attorney general. The public should not be penalized to any enhanced price for coal when there is no justification for any increase."

Secretary Davis explained at length the vain efforts of the government to bring about a joint conference of operators and miners described in considerable detail the issues involved in the controversy and added:

"I cannot let this opportunity pass without expressing keen disappointment at the failure of certain operators to fulfill the terms of their obligation to meet in conference with a view to peace in the coal industry for two years more."

Blames Both in Soft Coal Dispute.
"There may be faults on both sides of this bituminous dispute, but the side that openly repudiates its written and signed obligations has crippled its case before the bar of public opinion."

The anthracite industry presents a pleasing contrast, for its operators and miners are now meeting directly. There may be a suspension, but there is a negotiation and a genuine desire to agree. This clearly illustrates what the government has sought all along in the bituminous field. There is not now, and there never has been, any disposition in Washington to force conditions upon employers and employees."

The house committee on labor began hearings on the resolution offered by Representative Bland (Ind) for the appointment of a committee of three members by the President to investigate labor conditions in the coal industry. Witnesses were Ethelbert Stewart, commissioner of labor statistics of the department of labor; John Moore, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers of America, and Dr. Worth M. Tippy, representing the federal council of Churches of Christ.

Thirty Days Delay Urged.
A resolution introduced by Representative Upshaw (Ga.) contemplated a request to the president that he urge a thirty day delay in the commencement of a strike pending a joint conference of operators and miners."

Representative Upshaw at the hearing asked Mr. Moore whether the United Mine Workers would approve action of this nature.

"We don't desire governmental intervention until all our resources have been exhausted," replied Mr. Moore.

500,000 MINERS QUIT TONIGHT IN RECORD STRIKE

26 States Are Involved in the Walkout.

United States. In number of workers involved it is one of the largest industrial walkouts. It is the first time that both anthracite and bituminous mine workers have gone out together in a general movement.

So far, however, it has drawn only a languid interest from the public. Warm weather is approaching, and the ordinary domestic consumer, with enough coal in the bin to keep the furnace going until then, appears to be little concerned. The utilities have been stocking up and the railroads have been laying in mountains of coal.

Union Position Unfavorable.
The union chiefs, many of them, it may be said, realize that the strike goes on in the face of circumstances unpropitious to the miners. First and foremost, there is a supply of soft coal now on hand amounting to some 65,000,000 tons, the largest surplus since the days of the armistice. The geological survey estimates that at the present rate of consumption there is about eight weeks' supply on hand. Industrial plants have enough on an average to last forty-three days. The electric utilities have an average of fifty-four days' stock, many of the large ones, however, running up to ninety days. The steel plants have forty-eight days, the railroads forty-two days, and the gas plants eighty-two days.

Must Stay Out Months to Win.
It depends largely on cars and also on whether the walkout spreads to the unorganized fields, but experts estimate that enough fuel will be gained to keep the strike from exerting any real pinch until August or September—unless summer should bring a greater industrial revival than is generally looked for.

To put it another way, the miners would have to be idle for four or five months before the strike made itself felt in any general industrial discomfort or hardship. It is questioned by some union leaders whether the men could stick it out that long.

If, on the other hand, industry should take a great spurt and show that the public would begin to yell, and public opinion is one factor carefully courted these days by both sides in a labor dispute.

WOMAN GETS $25
IN $25,000 SUIT
FOR HEART BALM

"Better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all" probably ran through the mind of Mrs. Anna Marcus, 4613 North Dover street, yesterday morning as she listened to the verdict of the jury which awarded her $25 in full payment for the injured feelings she suffered as the result of the failure of Hyman Wittenberg to fulfill his alleged promise to marry her. Mrs. Marcus valued her broken heart at $25,000 and sued for that amount.

According to the story told by Mrs. Marcus, who is 47 years old and the mother of five children, Wittenberg asked her two days after he met her to become his bride. A contract in which he waived any right to the other's property was produced by Mrs. Marcus as evidence of Wittenberg's intention to marry her.

Wittenberg, who is 56 years old, a wealthy matron, testified that because of ill health he had not thought of marrying Mrs. Marcus. The contract was signed, he said, at the behest of his six children.

Judge Joseph David will hear the motion of Attorney Charles E. Engelen, counsel for Mrs. Marcus, for a new trial April 8.

VIVISECTION IS DEFENDED FROM CRUELTY CHARGE

"I have never seen of vivisections and I have never seen any greater cruelty than is practiced daily on human patients in the best ordered hospitals in this country," declared Ernest Harold Baynes of Meriden, N. H., a well-known animal authority, before several hundred women at Orchestra hall yesterday.

My investigations have led me to conclude that the anti-vivisectionists have been willfully misleading a glib and untrained public," he continued, "as to every phase, including the amount of pain inflicted and the value of the experiments. There is growing up an enormous mass of artificially cultivated tenderness toward a superstitious suffering."

Mr. Baynes spoke under the auspices of the Chicago Woman's club, cooperating with several other organizations.

This is Mary Landon Baker's busy day. It's the end of her vacation and the beginning of her matrimonial plans.

Miss Baker, who has been living with her parents, the Alfred Landon Bakers of 1130 Lake Shore drive, at their winter home in Montecito, Cal., for the last two months, will this afternoon ride her favorite mare, Jean True, in two classes at the fourth annual Santa Barbara horse show.

She will go to Los Angeles this evening and leave on the California line for the east tomorrow morning, arriving in Chicago Monday morning. She will remain in Chicago four days before going on to New York, whence she sails April 11 on the Aquitania for England to be married to Alister McCormick.

FOREST PRESERVE WORKER KILLED
AFTER BARROW

John Hoffman, 30 years old, a forest preserve employe, was shot and instantly killed last night while in front of the West Thirty-first Street State bank, 255 West 31st street, following a quarrel with two companions, one of whom is believed to have been wounded.

Hoffman, with two men, one of whom is said by witnesses to be John ("Blackie") Smith, 2236 Lowe avenue, were in a saloon at Wallace and West 30th streets, where they quarreled. They left the saloon and in front of the bank the third man drew a revolver and stepped behind Hoffman and fired five shots, three of which struck him in the back of the neck.

Issues Involved in the Coal Strike

Demands of bituminous miners.
These number about 620,000, and are estimated to be 60 per cent unionized:

1. No wage cuts; maintain the present basic wage schedules.
2. Adjustment of differentials.
3. The six hour day and five day week.
4. Time and a half for overtime; double time for Sundays and holidays.
5. Weekly pay.
6. Elimination of the automatic penalty clause.
7. Next wage scale to run two years, to March 31, 1924.
8. Joint interstate conference with operators in central competitive field. (Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Western Pennsylvania); a four-state basic wage agreement as now to be used as the basis for settlement in outlying districts.
9. Maintain the check-off.

Demands of anthracite miners.
These are about 150,000 in number, more than half being union members. The chief of them being:

1. A 20 per cent increase in contract wage scale; increase of $1 a day for day men.
2. A uniform wage schedule so that occupations of like character at the several collieries shall command the same wage.
3. Eight hour day to be extended to wage earners working around the collieries.
4. Time and a half for overtime and double time for Sundays and holidays.
5. A check-off provision to be put into the next contract.
6. All dead work to be paid for on a uniform consideration basis.
7. More liberal treatment of miners who encounter abnormal conditions in their working places.
8. Carpenters and other tradesmen to be paid standard rates in the region, not less than 90 cents an hour.
9. In laying off men, seniority to apply.
10. Full eight hour opportunity to be given employes at collieries which have been working on a six or seven hour day; where eight hour opportunity is denied wages shall be adjusted.

What the Operators Want:

1. Wage deflation; reduction of wages scheduled to say, the levels of 1919 or 1917, or to a point where union fields can compete with non-union.
2. Abolition of the check-off, under which union dues and assessments are collected by the companies out of the pay envelopes.
3. Scrapping of the present central competitive field basic wage agreement; separate state wage agreements to supplant it.

Wages; the check-off; the manner of making wage scale agreements, on a four-state basis or by single states.

The United Mine Workers of America insist the tie up will not be a strike but a suspension of work due to the fact that when their present contract expires at midnight there is no wage understanding to take its place. They declare the Pittsburgh operators are guilty of a "breach of contract," in refusing to enter a joint four-state conference with the miners before April 1 as stipulated in the last agreement. The Pittsburgh operators argue that the four-state idea was wrecked in 1920 six months after the present contract was signed by a controversy which led to the empowering of each state to fix its own wage rate for day men.

Other Big Coal Strikes in the U. S.

1894—First general strike in bituminous industry called by United Mine Workers of America to restore wage scales which had been reduced during "panic" of 1893. Between 100,000 and 150,000 went out.

1897—Walkout of 150,000 miners to deplete an overstocked fuel market which union officials feared would result in wage reductions. Strike lasted twelve weeks, at the end of which the market had been depleted. First successful strike of United Mine Workers.

1900—Anthracite strike; 135,000 men out; ended with an increase in wages.

1906—Anthracite strike; lasted twenty-three weeks; 140,000 men engaged; settled when President Roosevelt appointed a commission which later awarded a wage advance.

1919—Bituminous strike of about 400,000 miners in November and December. This was called off by union in compliance with an injunction obtained by Attorney General Palmer under the wartime fuel control act; a commission appointed by President Wilson later gave the miners a wage increase approximating 27 per cent.

EINSTEIN FACES IN PARIS GRAVE BLOW AT THEORY

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BERNE, March 30.—Edmond Guillaume says he has discovered a fundamental error in the Einstein theory and is en route to Paris to attend the savant's lecture and to challenge the relativity discoverer.

M. Guillaume hopes for a public debate in which he can use his ellipsoid to demonstrate Prof. Einstein's error. Former Premier Painleve, a celebrated mathematician, has reached the same conclusions as M. Guillaume, but through a different process. M. Guillaume is a cousin of Charles Albert Guillaume, a recent Nobel prize winner.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—The shipping board suffered a net loss on the operation of ships of $3,069,459 during February, Chairman Lasker announced today. This, he said, was the lowest recorded since the government engaged in the commercial operation of its vessels.

Henrici's

A business house which concerns itself chiefly with maintenance and extension of an economic service may totally ignore popular fads and fancies, and all catch-penny methods, and so survive for more than half a century, with ever increasing prosperity. This has been demonstrated by Henrici's.

From a period of depression that has weighed heavily upon many great enterprises, this restaurant is emerging with enlarged facilities, increased patronage and added prestige. And this is said less in a spirit of tribute to Henrici's than in acknowledgment of the alertness of thousands of people in the implicit apprehension of a service that is fundamentally sound.

INDICTMENTS IN LICENSE PROBE EXPECTED SOON

Grand Jury Slated to Act
Next Week.

Indictments are expected to be returned by the grand jury next week as a result of the investigation conducted by State's Attorney Crowe into alleged irregularities in connection with the issuance of licenses by the state department of registration and education. Delay in preparing the case for presentation to the grand jury has been caused by sickness and death in the families of a number of the state's attorney's staff.

"I shall be free to devote my entire time again to the inquiry next week," said Assistant State's Attorney Samuel M. Hamilton, who has charge of the investigation. "There are a number of absences on the state's attorney's staff, due to illnesses and deaths, and it has been necessary to press almost every assistant into service to try cases."

Few Days' Delay Seen.
"I did not want to take the matter before the grand jury until the case was complete and ready for trial, and it will only require a few more days' work to get it in that shape. As soon as the evidence is complete it will be before the grand jury immediately."

The special committee of physicians appointed to investigate methods of passing state licenses yesterday made public a telegram sent to Gov. Small following the committee's first meeting on Wednesday. After stating that the committee had organized by electing Dr. W. L. Noble, 1523 Ashbury avenue, chairman, and Dr. W. A. Frank, 2319 Commonwealth avenue, Chicago, secretary, the third member being Dr. Edwin P. Sloan of the Sloan clinic, Bloomington, the telegram reads as follows:

"We request that you furnish us with such credentials as will give us entrance to offices and access to records necessary for the investigation."

To Recommend Safeguards.
"In accordance with your request, we will endeavor to discover whether there have been any leaks, and, if so, we will recommend methods calculated to protect the people against licensing of improperly trained professional men and women and craftsmen."

"The committee invites all persons with evidence or with suggestions for the betterment of the service to communicate with the individual members at the addresses given above."

"We will meet on April 3 at 2 p. m. at the Congress hotel."

A reply was received from Gov. Small acknowledging receipt of the telegram and announcing that a letter of authority covering the grounds outlined by the committee would reach the investigating body today.

DIVORCED WIFE TO TELL HER SIDE OF "KISSING FEST"

"Now I'm going to tell my side of the story," said Mrs. Dora M. Diefenbaugh. "He told his—most of it was untrue—now I'm going to tell mine—and it will be worth hearing."

On Oct. 18, 1921, Dr. W. A. Diefenbaugh, 45 years old, 5946 South Halsted street, was granted a divorce from Mrs. Diefenbaugh. She did not appear at the hearing. The doctor charged his wife with infidelity, asserting she had kissed several of his patients.

GIRLS NOT BAD, JUST CHANGING, PASTOR HOLDS

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

That young women do not wear the same clothes as their grandmothers and settle such questions as the dance by rules of the past is not a sign of badness, but simply a transition period in which young people are trying to think these questions out for themselves, according to the Rev. Henry F. Cope, general secretary of the Religious Education association who spoke last evening at the Com. [Woffet Photo.]

gess hotel on "The Hour of Hope in Religious Education."

"This is the most hopeful hour the cause of religious education and the religious education association has seen," he said. "Last year we had a larger increase in our membership than in any two years previous except the first year of our history. We believe we can build a new world based on love."

The Rev. Theodore G. Soares of the University of Chicago, president of the association and who is said to be slated for reelection, today made his annual address.

Rabbi Louis Wolsey, Cleveland, spoke on "Religious Education in a Liberty Loving Nation."

Prof. George A. Coe, Union Theological seminary, N. Y., spoke at a dinner at the Auditorium hotel given under auspices of the Chicago Church federation.

SALVATION ARMY SPEAKER DECRIES JAZZ INFLUENCE

Points to Crowded
Maternity Homes.

Three hundred delegates assembled in the Fine Arts building yesterday, as representatives of churches and women's clubs, heard how, with seductive jazz music as the initial lure, a "horribly large number of girls of superior education and refinement" have danced their way into Chicago maternity homes during the last two years.

The meeting, which was under auspices of the woman's auxiliary of the Salvation Army, was held to promote legislation to aid unmarried mothers. Brig. Annie Cowden, who directs this social work for the Salvation Army in fifteen states, was the chief speaker.

Moral Barriers Broken Down.
"The number of girl mothers cared for in the last two years has more than doubled," said Brig. Cowden, "and the character of girls coming to maternity homes has shown a remarkable change during this period—a change that may well cause people to think that the moral barriers erected by society have broken down."

"Formerly these unfortunate girls were drawn from the very poor and illiterate classes. But recently a much higher type of girls has been coming to us—school teachers, college students, stenographers, clerks."

"Modern dancing is responsible. Take the case of Elizabeth, a high school graduate. I asked her if dancing had anything to do with her downfall."

"O," she replied, wringing her hands, "it had everything to do with it."

Would Pension Unwed Mothers.
The meeting adopted recommendations favoring legislation requiring: Registering all births, with name of father where known.

Detention of mothers in hospital for six months, that they may become attached to children.

Ask for the Emerson Shoe with the Fair and Square Retail Price
Branded on the Sole

I have seen my business grow until today a million pairs of Emerson Shoes are being worn every year.

I am often asked "Why?"

There are just four reasons:

First—I brand my name and a fair and square retail price on the soles of all my shoes at the factory to guarantee honest values to the wearer.

Second—I demand for myself absolute comfort in shoes which are at the same time smart looking, well fitting and long wearing, and I cannot expect any other man to demand less.

Third—I have always insisted that the shoes which bear my name must first satisfy the wearer in every respect, and bring him back for another pair.

Fourth—By buying my materials in large quantities for all my stores and by paring every expense to the bone, I keep my prices at Rock Bottom.

CAPITAL ROUSED BY TACTICS OF SMALL MACHINE

"Slush" Fund and Jobs Are Its Weapons.

The final article of this series, appearing tomorrow, will discuss the legislative primary situation in southern Illinois.

BY PARKE BROWN AND
E. O. PHILLIPS.

The Forty-fifth senatorial district, embracing Sangamon and Morgan counties, and centering around Springfield, furnishes an index of many of the extreme means relied upon by the Lundin-Thompson-Small machine to elect a legislature subservient to its dictates.

Here, in its effort to reflect Senator John A. Wheeler, father of the bill to throw 2,500 civil service positions into the patronage pot, and consistent "yes man" for the administration, the Small organization has displayed almost its entire bag of tricks. Wheeler is opposed by Representative Earl B. Seary, who recently showed that about $2,000,000 included in Gov. Small's much advertised "$1,000,000 veto" was secretly spent following the veto. His defeat is considered almost as vital to the welfare of the machine as Wheeler's election.

Desperate for Small Machine.
Both the Small downstate organization and the city hall have recognized that the situation is a desperate one in this district. A big factor in the public mind is Small's charge in connection with his change of venue that the people of Sangamon county were not fair minded toward him. Other factors have given the anti-Small forces confidence.

In the same way the Small faction has concluded to use every tool and weapon within reach to win the fight. The array of charges already made is a long one, and the latest and one of the most serious is that state employees, regardless of their political sentiments, are being levied upon for a slush fund. This scheme is being carried on under the guise of membership in the "Sangamon County Republican club," a new organization. All state house and institution employees have been asked to sign membership cards and they are expected to contribute from $10 to $25, it is said, as "membership" fees.

Forced to Violate Merit Law.
But this is only the climax of the pressure brought on state employees. Many of them have reported that they were compelled to register in Springfield, although they always have preferred to vote in their home communities. This group is said to include life-long Democrats. Some, it is reported, have been compelled to violate the civil service law by becoming candidates for precinct committeemen.

The demand that all employees register has been driven home hard. Six voters are registered from the executive mansion. They include A. E. Inglish, the administrative auditor, and his wife, Mrs. Inglish, who is Gov. Small's daughter. This is said to be the first instance within memory that members of the family of a governor elected from some community other than Springfield has registered in the capital.

But probably as much as by any other cause, the Forty-fifth has been scandalized by the number of political workers put on the pay roll for the purposes of the campaign. A list published recently contained the names of more than 100 residents of Sangamon county drawing state salaries "whose chief duties are to perfect a political organization for Wheeler."

100 Added to Asylum Pay Roll.
It is reported that more than 100 additional employees have been placed on the roll of the Jacksonville state hospital. At this institution also, it is said that visitors asking to see inmates are requested first to sign pledge cards for Wheeler.

F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, has taken a hand in the campaign. He personally, but not the league, has been attacked by Seary, who has charged that McBride, after writing him that his legislative record was "100 per cent perfect," tried to get him to withdraw from the senate race so that Wheeler would be left a clear field. Seary has accused McBride of joining forces with the machine.

Gov. Small has not spoken in Springfield, but at Jacksonville he made his usual speech promising that counties and districts that support him will receive state roads. At the same time he has been refusing to approve Sangamon county's road program or to allow it its road refund, which was authorized by the legislature last June.

Situation in Small's District.
Of the districts in this section of the state only one—the Kankakee-Grundy-Iroquois, Gov. Small's home

POLITICAL NEWS

Matthias A. Mueller and James H. Lawley, Republican candidates for re-election to the sanitary district board, were headliners last night at a mass-meeting in the Twenty-ninth—Trustee Mueller's home ward—held in Lachner's hall. Other speakers were Coroner Hoffman, candidate for sheriff, and Adolphus B. Magnus, for the board of review.

Mrs. Helene Danek, candidate for the county board on the Crowe Republican slate, will be honor guest at a luncheon at Mandel Bros. tearoom at noon today given by the Woman's Protective association, of which Mrs. Danek has been president for two years.

The Regular Democratic Woman's organization will give a luncheon tomorrow at noon in the Great Northern hotel for the women candidates on the regular ticket. They are Mrs. E. W. Benis, Mrs. Jean Washburne and Mrs. Elizabeth Shroyer, all candidates for the county board.

Henry Stuckart, chairman of a citizens' Democratic meeting in the Fourth ward last night, at which John E. Traeger, candidate for sheriff, was the principal speaker, predicted the ward will be carried by every candidate on the citizens' slate.

Declaring that repetition of former primary and election day frauds is threatened on April 11, the Brundage-Crowe anti-city hall Republicans in the Twenty-first ward have named a committee to war on repeaters and ballot box stuffers. The committee issued a warning last night that prosecutions will be prosecuted. The committee is headed by J. W. Rausch, of Morris is making a beligerent Democratic campaign for the seat vacated by B. W. Alpin, who was anti-Small all over the lot. The reports are the Small organization's Democratic candidate against Rausch is Ernest F. Radeke of Kankakee, who was started after Rausch refused to pledge himself to go along with the Small forces next winter. F. H. Slemons of Danforth is a third filed Democratic candidate.

CHARGE OF JURY TAMPERING PUTS OFF BURCH TRIAL

Los Angeles, Cal., March 30.—(Special.)—The dismissal of the twelve prospective jurors impaneled to try Arthur C. Burch for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy and the issuing of subpoenas for District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine, and all the veniremen named as having been "approached," was demanded late this afternoon by Burch's chief counsel, Paul W. Schenck.

Schenck's action came immediately after the twelfth juror had been temporarily accepted by both sides. "I move the entire panel be dismissed," he said, "that all impaneling of other members of the venire be discontinued, and that the necessary subpoenas issue. I desire to know to what extent this investigation has gone and who has made it so we can make a proper defense."

By "investigation" Schenck referred to the fact that most of the prospective jurors had been approached by men or women representing themselves as attorneys of the district attorney's office. Judge Sidney N. Reeve, presiding, declared there was no provision in the code for discharging the prospective jurors.

"If the proper showing is made to me," said Judge Reeve, "I'll go as far as the courts can go." He adjourned the hearing until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

REGULARS LINK IGOE UP TO CITY HALL BOND DEAL

The Thirty-fifth ward regular Democratic organization through its secretary, William Golden, last night came out with a stinging statement charging James T. Igoe, manager of the "Citizens' Democratic faction, with a bi-partisan alliance with the city hall last year when he was a candidate for city clerk.

"It will be recalled that he had no opposition," said the statement. "The reason for this was that he entered into an agreement with the Thompson-Lundin crowd to help them put over their bond issue of $8,000,000 which was designed to fund overdue and payable debts of the city which the waste and extravagance of the Thompson administration caused to accumulate.

"Igoe, as city clerk, could have prevented the question of their approval by the people from going on the ballot. Every lawyer is aware that that method of paying current obligations is in direct defiance of the constitution."

"If the proper showing is made to me," said Judge Reeve, "I'll go as far as the courts can go."

PRIMARY DECIDES 85% OF RACES FOR LEGISLATURE

L.V. Issues Its Report on Candidates.

The primary report of the Legislative Voters' league made public last night, suggests that 85 per cent of the Illinois legislature that will assemble next January, will, for all practical and actual purposes, be elected at the primaries on April 11, because of the direct primary law permits party committees to direct the number of house nominations that are to be made.

This situation demands from the voters the closest scrutiny of primary candidates, the report says.

Legislative candidates recommended by the league or who seem most acceptable, as a result of the league's investigation of the field, are as follows:

BRITTEN WANTS 5 BIG COMPANIES INVESTIGATED

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—Congressman Fred A. Britten of Chicago today introduced a resolution directing the attorney general to investigate the operations and accounts of the Radio Corporation of America, the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, the General Electric company, and the United Fruit company.

Since then she has specialized in financial advertising, studying in the advertising and new business department of the Guaranty Trust company of New York. From there she went to Buffalo to develop such a department in the Marine Trust company, one of the ten largest trust companies in the country. She is a Chicago girl and attended the University of Chicago.

"My attention has been called to a cross-licensing agreement between all of these companies which gives the Radio Corporation of America complete control of the manufacture, sale, and regional rights of the fundamental appliances and parts connected ed with wireless communication," said Congressman Britten.

"Although the shortage in radio tubes is so great as to inconvenience thousands of amateur operators, the United States government is refused permission to sell nearly a half million of these tubes which it has on hand as surplusage since the war and which it could sell at less than 50 per cent of the $6 price charged by the radio corporation.

"With thousands of amateur instruments out of commission for lack of tubes and with a surplusage in government warehouses that would satisfy the requirements of the army and the navy for 500 years to come, I am anxious to ascertain just why this monopoly, created in the radio corporation, can throttle wireless communication in the interest of exorbitant prices."

OF interest to Want Advertisers:
Watch the wording of your Want Ad! Read below how Mr. O., by re-wording his Want Ad, sold his automobile. He used The Tribune's Want Ad Slogan:

The more you tell the quicker you sell!

THE TRIBUNE'S WANT AD SLOGAN.

MR. O. wanted to sell his automobile. He was telling prospective car buyers that he had an auto, but he wasn't telling them enough about his offer. Here's his Want Ad:

he ran this Want Ad:

DODGE TOURING.

1919 model: Box winter top, heater, etc. This car carries a 90 day service guarantee; terms to suit your convenience or your old car is trade: $425. 900 Michigan. Call me 000.

This second Ad sold Mr. O.'s car.

Why? Because people who went to the Want Ad Section that day to look over the offerings in automobiles became really interested only in those which were described frankly, openly, fully! Whenever your market, your offer, your price, all justify a quick sale, and your Want Ad does not produce, look to the wording of that Want Ad!

This Want Ad brought no inquiries. Not a flicker from the populace. Mr. O. was surprised, disappointed, hurt. It was suggested that he try The Tribune's remedy for poor results: "The more you tell, the quicker you sell." He decided to do so. With some misgiving

NEW YORK WATER POLO TEAM BEATS I. A. C. FOR TITLE

New York, March 30.—[Special.]—After striving for eight years, the New York A. C. water polo team captured the National A. A. U. championship tonight, defeating the Illinois A. C. team, holders of the title, in the N. Y. A. C. pool, 4 goals to 3.

Although short of a title in this event, the Tri-color swimming aggregation from Chicago received some balm in the shape of a championship gained through the prowess of its swimming marvel, Johnny Weissmuller.

Competing against Leo Glebel, the Rutgers star who is representing the New York A. C., Weissmuller shattered the world's mark in the 200 meter swim, negotiating the distance in 2:18.5, one and three-fifths seconds faster than the old record, held by Ted H. Cann of the New York A. C.

Weissmuller Sets Pool Mark.

The Chicago star in the course of his achievement also made a try for the 200 yard and the 220 yard records, both of which he now holds, but failed. His time for the latter distance, however, was 2:19.5, the fastest time ever negotiated in the N. Y. A. C. pool.

The water polo game was fast and furious throughout. The tri-color led the Winged Foot representatives, 2 goals to 1, at the end of the first half, swimming rings around their opponents, beating them to the ball and also passing far more accurately. Both Heiber and Wallen counted before Hill managed to cage a goal for the N. Y. A. C. team.

In the second half, however, the Mercury Footers staged a great comeback, led by Ted Cann, equalized the count shortly after the gun had been fired and then forged to the front, never to be headed again. Steve Ruddy won the game with a goal shortly before the game ended.

Ted Cann Is Star.

Cann was easily the star of the game. Twice his old football injury forced him to take time out while his mate pulled his dislocated shoulder back into place, but after each maneuver he counted goals.

It was the second time in ten years that the Illinois team had lost the championship. They were defeated in 1920 by the Olympic club of San Francisco, but regained the title again last year.

Lineup: Illinois A. C. (3). New York A. C. (4). F. C. Jensen, Goal. J. P. Catus, W. B. Voshell, R. E. M. Riter, H. T. Town, Half back, J. J. Curran, H. J. Wallen, Forward, H. Volmer, H. J. Heiber, Forward, S. A. Ruddy Jr., Goal, W. Wallen, I. Heiber, I. Cann, R. Ruddy, I. Heiber, F. Currier, New York Tech club.

SUNDAY PRO GRID GATE ROW BRINGS JUDGE TO WRATH

Buffalo, N. Y., March 30.—Sunday professional football here is prohibited by law and contracts made for such games are worthless, according to a decision today by Justice Alonzo Hinkley. The ruling was given in a suit between owners of two eleven, one of which sued for $175, as his share of a Sunday game last fall. The other contended that as a Sunday game was illegal, the contract was invalid and the suit should be dismissed.

His claim was granted, but in his decision Justice Hinkley scored the defendant. "One could not conceive of a more unprofessional act," the decision says. "He took the benefits of the contract, then after refusing to pay, plays the game, and by invoking the Sunday statute, if he reflects the character of professional football generally, then another favorite sport requires a house cleaning."

Fakers nearly killed wrestling. Judge Landis is renewing faith in baseball and the state is the guardian of boxing. It is the history of sport scandal that all must suffer for the wrong doing of the few."

Omaha, Neb., March 30.—In the swim meet of Western and National A. A. U. events at Omaha A. C. tonight, the national junior 220 yard championship was won by Adolph L. Anderson, Omaha A. C., with B. E. Colburn, Kansas Agricultural college, second, and Jack McQuade, O. A. C., third. The time was 2:44.5.

D. L. Dimond of Omaha A. C. lowered his last year's western A. A. U. record for the senior 100 yard back stroke, swimming the distance in 1:17.5. The record made by Dimond last year was 1:21.5.

BOB BECKER

IN WHICH A FISHERMAN GETS EXCITED.

DEAR BOB: It was not a yearning after literary honors which prompted me to write you my experience with the Nebraska leaping bass, hence I did not expect to see the letter in print.

From the heading which graced it (The Season for Fishing Yarns Is Now Open) an unthinking person might be led to believe that you perhaps had some doubts as to the accuracy of the narrative or the veracity of the narrator.

Still, no one familiar with your gentle nature, as depicted in your writings from day to day, would attribute to you so base a suspicion. But they might conclude that you had in mind some of your own tales.

NEW GRID RULE IS GIVEN TEST AT NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame, Ind., March 30.—[Special.]—The first test of the new grid rule for scoring a point following a touchdown was made by two Notre Dame teams in an exhibition game of the spring practice season. The scoring team added the extra point on three of four attempts.

When the teams first lined up on the 5 yard line the spectators experienced the thrill of witnessing something new. The ball was passed and neatly dropped over the goal for the seventh point. Another drop kick was successful, but on the third attempt the team switched to a successful pass. A fourth touchdown resulted in another attempted pass, which was knocked down.

POSTPONE SWIM MEET AT DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., March 30.—National and Central A. A. U. swimming championships, scheduled to be held here Saturday night, have been postponed to April 18 because of a conflict in dates, it was announced today.

The feature event will be the national A. A. U. 220 yard senior championship for men. Another event will be the women's central A. A. U. fancy diving championship. The meet was postponed to permit entry of Illinois A. C. swimmers now competing in New York.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

MY CREED.

If all this world felt just like me And now and then cut loose to see Just what the "other half" would do, Providing we were all true blue, I wonder what the score would show.

All-Time Baseball.

Dear Wake: Wonder if you would let an old-time baseball fan pick an all-time nine just once from the men he has actually seen play? Bro. Crumbly said if we didn't like his choices, pick our own. With twenty-two players on a club, could this be improved?

Catchers—Kling, Ewing, Schaik, Pitches—Rabourne, Mathewson, Brown, Alexander, Johnson, Waddell, Richmond, Ramsey.

Infield—Chase, Barnes, G. Wright, Denny, Williamson, Leide, Outfield—Cobb, Lange, Speaker, Ruth, Mike Kelly.

Whadda Y'mean Normalcy?

Friend Wake: Doesn't it jar you when you see a clothing ad with a picture of a swell dressed guy surrounded by a group of admiring friends, and underneath a line in 72-point type saying the price of these clothes has come back to normalcy, and then in smaller type that there is no excuse for a fellow not being well dressed now, and just as you have decided to let go your small change for a new suit you see in still smaller type in the lower right hand corner "$72.98 each"—doesn't it, we ask you, keep you right over like the character in a comic strip?

VOSHELL, SHAFER AND ANDERSON IN NET SEMI-FINALS

New York, March 30.—Frank T. Anderson, the playing through champion, had a close call today in the national men's indoor tennis championship singles on the courts of the Seventh Regiment armory, winning from Herbert L. Bowman of the New York A. C. only after a three set battle, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2. Anderson won his way into the semi-final bracket only by a brilliant rally in the deciding set.

Other favorites Howard Voshell, won their way into the semi-finals in straight set victories and tomorrow Anderson will face S. Howard Voshell, former title holder, while Francis T. Hunter and G. Carlton Shaffer will battle. Voshell's service and volley proved too much for Dr. George King, 6-2, 6-3. Shaffer outdrove C. E. Unterberg, 6-1, 7-5. Hunter took advantage of Percy L. Kyrastow's erratic form and won easily, 6-2, 6-0.

Anderson, paired with Voshell, earned a place in the semi-final round of the doubles, defeating Armand L. Bruneau and J. L. Anderson, 6-2, 9-7.

The field probably will be the strongest yet played in the United States this season, save for the open championship in Chicago. It includes practically all of the foremost professionals, but lacks the leading amateurs. Hutchison won the event last year with a score of 291, the record for the event.

Joe Kirkwood, the Australian; Mike Brady, Detroit; Tommy Kerrigan; Bob MacDonald, Willie Ogg, Alex Ross, Gene Sarazen, Pat O'Hara, and Cyril Walker are among the players who have been playing well and should help in making the pace.

Among the amateurs who will start are A. L. Walker Jr., Richmond county; Tommy Armour, Scotland; and Donald Parsons, Youngstown.

Tel. O. March 30.—[Special.]—
Cincinnati is coming in for more undesirable publicity as the result of the running in of "rings" in the American Bowling Congress tourney. Hardy had the smoke blown away from the exposure of Burbrink rolling under the name of B. Dreyer, while in the Cincinnati Buckeye Mail Syrup, which team is captained by Henry Mergerd Sr., before another scandal broke about the quintet captained by Henry Mergerd Jr. The latest affects the Mergerd Ideal Pairs five and is the result of a man named E. Rinck rolling on this team while in doubles and singles under the name of W. Burkhardt, who was originally and officially entered with the team.

Notified of Expulsion.

Henry Mergerd Jr. is captain of the Ideal Pairs team and today was notified by Secretary A. L. Langtry of the A. B. C. that all events of the team's members, J. Nienaber, G. Watte, H. Spatz, E. Rinck, and his own had been disqualified, that his doubles with Burkhardt had been thrown out and that all these men had been expelled from organized bowling until further notice.

Today in the minor events of the American Bowling Congress tourney was featured by the failure of another A. B. C. champion to show winning form. Frank Smith of Detroit, winner of the individual title at Madison with 702, could collect only 64 in his singles, outside the money.

Gets 67 in Five Men Event.

Smith got a big 67 start last night in his five men event and collected 64 for his share of the doubles with F. O'Rourke, making his total for nine games 1,831, which is slightly within the money in the all event.

The doubles score of Smith and his partner was 1,106.

Detroit entrants had everything to themselves in the two men event today, although bowlers from several other cities took part in the competition. Leading scores, all Detroit, were: F. Smith-H. Ralston, 1,339; E. Lavoie-G. Williams, 1,317; W. Hagard-A. Paul, 1,213; J. Kenney-W. Hendrick, 1,212.

The highest single for three games was 671 registered by F. Brechies of Detroit. Other good scores were: C. Best, Detroit, 637; J. Santa, Buffalo, 624; E. McPherson, Delaware, 623.

On the night team squad Chero-Cola of Evansville, Ind., got 2,818; Bellevue Ice Cream, Green Bay, 2,784; Richmond, Rockford, Ill., 2,744; and Coca-Cola, Evansville, 2,725.

CLION TO FACE CLASSY FIELD IN PRO ROLLERMEET

When the professional championship roller skating tournament opens Monday at the Riverview rink Roland Chol, international titleholder, will face bitter competition with twenty of the best skaters in the country entered.

Among the local entries who are expected to show up in the money are: George Schwartz, Jackie Clark, Joe Lowry, and Al Kruger of the Amer. A. Art Staff, world's professional ice skating champion.

Other skaters of prominence are: Jack Wood, N. J.; Robert Peters, St. Louis; Arthur Richman, Columbus, O.; and Eddie Kaba, Cincinnati.

Edward Mahlie, clerk of the course, and Chief Judge George Smith yesterday verified measurements of the time-lapse course, so any marks set will be official.

SOX WIN WET GAME FROM COLLEGE BOYS

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Vicksburg, Miss., March 30.—[Special.]—After five and one-half innings of play the White Sox and Mississippi college were forced to desist this afternoon because of rainfall.

The bottled proceedings brought no regrets from the athletes, however, as the battle was staged in a comical ball park, and whenever a man moved around he was in danger of breaking a leg or neck.

When Umpire [TRIBUNE Photo.] Owens halted the affair the Sox were leading, 5 to 1, but on a good field it is possible the college boys would have given a far better account of themselves. Even under the conditions they showed more skill than the average varsity nine.

Falk Does a Brodie.

The pitcher who faced the Sox was one Joe Edwards, a lad who belongs to the local semipro team. The Sox plenty trouble with a curve and a hopping fast one.

The feature of the afternoon was a Brodie performed by Bob Falk in left field. The Sox had sent him in pursuit of a fly ball and suddenly dropped from a height of a fly ball and suddenly dropped from a height of a fly ball and suddenly dropped from a height of a fly ball.

A huge spray of water arose from the spot. He had fallen into a creek.

Ray Wilkinson, who pitched for the Sox, furnished the offensive wallop that made victory a certainty. Wilkie hit one over onto the hillside for a homer with two on in the fourth. The other two runs were scored on hits by Hooper, Mostil, and Sheely.

Landis Dons Sombro.

Commissioner Landis attended the game, wearing, among other things, the huge sombrero presented by admirers at Fort Worth, Tex.

The Sox departed tonight for Meridian, Miss., to play tomorrow. Score: White Sox 5, Mississippi 1.

OAKLAND, 14; CUBS, 5

Oakland, Cal., March 30.—[Special.]—Oakland beat the Cubs here today in a game that was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of rain, 14 to 5. The Cubs were off their stride completely, and many substitutions were made.

Cubs started as if for an easy victory, with Stuekel pitching nicely. One run came over in the second, when Hack Miller, hero of "Miller day," drove out a fine double and counted on Barber's hit. Stats scored in the next. Then came the big explosion.

Before the Oaks could be retired in the third, they had scored ten runs. Stuekel grew wild and Chees was rushed in to relieve him, but wasn't warmed up enough and Oakland scored five more before a man was retired.

WOMEN PIN CHAMPIONS

BY FRANK SMITH.

Peoria, Ill., March 30.—[Special.]—Pal Moore put on his usual victory to night in his ten round bout with Herb Schaefer of Chicago.

But the Memphis and Chicago flash knew he was in a fracas, particularly in the final two rounds, when the lad from Jim Mullen's stable stood up and took two or three sizzlers to get in a couple of wallops. He got in more than a couple, but Moore's lead was so big in the early sessions that it would have taken a boxer with tripphammer blows to even up the mill.

It took Moore a couple of rounds to warm up, then he let loose, and for the next six sessions smothered Herb with everything in his repertoire.

Schaefer proved a willing catcher, but never once during the fight did he back up of his own free will.

Moore has a host of friends in this man's town, but it is a question if he has any more than Schaefer made to night. The gang was with the youngster, and every time he landed there was a roar. He will be welcomed here in another encounter.

All of Peoria's fight fans were at the go, and if it hadn't rained there would have been a S. R. O. sign. In the other bouts Jack Phillips beat Pat Welch, eight rounds; Kid Allison beat Young Broadbeck, six rounds, and Spike Peck beat Billy Lee, six rounds.

HAMMER ON TRAIL OF RICHIE; BARS NO LIGHTWEIGHT

Following his decisive victory over Joe Jawson of Milwaukee, aboard the U. S. S. Commodore last Friday, Ever Hammer, the brilliant blonde lightweight, is seeking a match with Richie Mitchell, the Cream City 135 pounder.

According to Manager George Ferguson, Hammer is entitled to consideration because of the showing against Jawson, who defeated Johnny Mendelsohn, one of the lightweight prizes of Milwaukee. The local fighter's manager is not drawing the line on Mitchell, but asserted any of the lightweights in the game can have a match with Hammer if the inducements are proper.

Frankie Welsh, local welterweight, has been matched to meet Tommy Coninsky at Denver April 7.

George Spencer of Buffalo, who will meet Sammy Mandell on the Commodore on April 7, will arrive in Chicago Monday and start to train at the Arcade. Mandell will also be in town the first of the week.

Bud Taylor, Terre Haute bantam, who has been giving an injured right hand a rest, will return to action on April 21 for ten rounds against Babe Asher in Terre Haute. Taylor will box in Madison Square Garden on May 5, but his opponent has not been named.

Frankie Jammatt, west side bantam, left yesterday for Battle Creek, Mich., where he will trade punches with Kid Buck for ten rounds tonight.

PARCAUT FANS SEE WIN OVER MEYERS

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Ever since Johnny Meyers, who will defend his middleweight mat title against Ralph Parcaut of Iowa at the Coliseum on Monday night, was given such a grueling match by Heine Engel about a month ago, there have been persistent rumors in local wrestling circles that Johnny is slipping.

Before Meyers pinned Engel, the Hawkeye grappler had piled up so many points that he would have won the decision easily, had the match gone the limit.

Many died in the wool fans believe Meyers has passed the peak of his career. Opinion is almost equally divided, and there appears to be plenty of Parcaut money in town.

The Marines club of Chicago will turn out in a body to root for Parcaut, who was a member of the corps and saw a lot of action in France. The local club will meet tonight at the Hotel Sherman, where arrangements will be made to attend the show in a body.

Parcaut and Meyers are hard at work at local gymnasia. The champion is training at the Arcade and Parcaut at Peretti's. They wrestle with different partners each afternoon.

HULL HOUSE MAT TEAM VICTORS

Hull house wrestlers won the inter-settlement wrestling tournament last night at Eleanor social center with 550 points. Eleanor center was second with 200, while Gads Hill scored 180 and Northwestern settlement 140.

Winners in the classes were: 115 pound, C. Beclona, Hull House; 125 pound, William Beclona, Hull House; 135 pound, Sportie, Hull House; 145 pound, Ballard, Gads Hill; 155 pound, Marotto, Hull House; heavyweight, Luczak, Northwestern.

Frankie Welsh, local welterweight, has been matched to meet Tommy Coninsky at Denver April 7.

George Spencer of Buffalo, who will meet Sammy Mandell on the Commodore on April 7, will arrive in Chicago Monday and start to train at the Arcade. Mandell will also be in town the first of the week.

U. S. STILL HUNTS THAT 29 MILLION FORD 'GAVE BACK'

Detroit, Mich., March 30.—[Special.]—A special dispatch from Washington today to the Detroit Journal says:

"Washington continues to await Henry Ford's answer to Secretary Mellon's inquiry about the $29,000,000 war profits which it is claimed Ford has returned to the government, but which Mellon says has never been received by the treasury."

"Secretary Mellon's letter to Ford remains unanswered and in the absence of word from the Detroit manufacturer, government officials have been investigating Ford's war-time contracts and agreements with the government in an effort to learn if the contracts contained any provisions regarding the return of profits."

"Promises Given Senators."—Attorney Lucking, Ford's personal representative, made a specific promise Jan. 14, 1919, before the senate committee on naval affairs that Mr. Ford would refuse to accept a cent of profits from the construction of Eagle boats for the navy department."

"On page 44 of the report of the hearing is the following: 'Chairman Swanson, Democrat [Va.]—The attorney for Ford authorized me to state that Mr. Ford said he would not take any profit from this contract whatever. He owned 58 per cent of the stock of the Ford company, and he will not accept any profit on that 58 per cent, and if it is paid he has said it should be returned.'"

"A letter written to Secretary of the Navy Daniels Dec. 22, 1919, says: 'We will undertake the construction of these boats with all possible speed and deliver them to the United States government without profit to us.'"

"Boats Cost $750,000 Each."—"Inquiry at the navy department discloses that this promise, so far as can be discovered, has not been carried out. One hundred and twelve Eagle boats were originally ordered. Sixty were built, fifty-two were canceled. The cost of the sixty was approximately $45,000,000, and the Ford company received $2,900,000 for work on the unfinished ones. The sixty boats cost the government $750,000 each."

"In his original proposal Ford informed Secretary Daniels he believed the boats would cost $275,000 each. They actually cost the government more than twice that."

STILLMAN CASE IS TO RESUME IN MONTREAL

New York, March 30.—The order of Supreme Court Justice Morschauser appointing a commission at Montreal to take testimony in the suit of James A. Stillman to divorce Mrs. Anne U. Stillman was unanimously upheld today by the appellate division of the Supreme court in Brooklyn.

The appellate judges so modified the order as to disallow cross examination of the Canadians who already have testified in this case.

Six witnesses who testified to misconduct in Canada between Mrs. Stillman and Fred Beauvais, Indian guide named as co-respondent, had been listed for quizzing by her counsel. Under the modification, they cannot be summoned to Montreal by the defense, but the plaintiff may call them in rebuttal.

Some of the other witnesses, about forty-five in number, are expected to testify to alleged bribery and attempted suborning of the Canadians who offered evidence in support of Mr. Stillman's charges.

The testimony of others will be offered by the defense to contradict statements made by "ladder and key hole" witnesses regarding conduct of Mrs. Stillman and Beauvais.

Mrs. Stillman has applied for $5,000 to pay for the expenses of a Canadian hearing, and that matter will be argued at Poughkeepsie, Saturday. Next Tuesday a hearing is to be held before Referee Gleason at Poughkeepsie to hear a witness for the plaintiff.

THE VENGEANCE OF HENRY JARROMAN

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Henry Jarroman, released from prison, to which he was sentenced twenty years before for the murder of Charles Eddie, learns that John Camden, his one time friend, who he believed stole his wife, killed Eddie, and fastened the crime on him, is dead. His embittered heart bids him make Camden's daughter a victim.

The girl believes her name to be Nadia Quest. She is employed as a typist by the Hon. Wilfred Stranack, who asks her to marry him.

Claudine Graye, Jarroman's wife, who deserted him and their child, is the proprietor of a gambling house. Thred, his rascally son, tells her Jarroman wants to find his daughter. They conspire to substitute Nadia to get his fortune. Jarroman recognizes Camden's ring which she wears, knows who she is, and rejects his victim has been given to him.

Nadia marries Stranack. Jarroman's detective tells him she is Camden's daughter and that he has found his own daughter, Nell, living in the slums. Jarroman instructs Thred to start proceedings against Nadia to recover the property he has given her. Begrove, the detective, reports he finds Camden's innocent of the crime as Jarroman. Lady Doucester, Wilfred's mother, tells Nadia she is Camden's daughter and begs her not to return Jarroman's money for the sake of Wilfred's career. She consents, but Stranack begins to sense a change in her. Mike X, Claudine's assistant, tells Jarroman she is Eddie's wife, and it was she who killed him. Wilfred learns who Nadia is, and furiously because he thinks she has taken for selfish motives the fortune which belongs to him, he leaves her.

Lady Doucester, to heal the breach, confesses to Wilfred that she and his father took Camden's fortune years before, and that it was she who blackmailed Nadia into keeping Jarroman's money. She then tells Thred, "I know who killed Eddie and I know who helped her." Jarroman introduces Claudine to Nell as "an old friend of mine." The girl refuses to take money from him.

INSTALLMENT LXXVI.

NADIA AND NELL.

"Dun'no so much about that," said Nell sulkily. "Seems ter me I made a bloomin' fool o' meself for nothink."

There was a pause. Nadia looked alarmed. Nell, on her return, had been amazed to find her in possession, but her amazement had soon changed to the cheery indifference with which the Cockney regards the incomprehensible.

"Yesterday you agreed with me—," began Nadia timidly.

"I did an' I didn't," retorted Nell. "Look 'ere. You ast me to 'elp yer and I sez I would. Well, I'd do as much for any gal as thort she was on 'er beam ends, without askin' questions. I ain't askin' now—I'm tellin' yer straight. It ain't no good tryin' to mix in where you ain't born. 'Ere, let's 'ave a cup o' tea."

Nadia stirred her tea, flushing.

"I ought to have made the whole position clear to you before I accepted your hospitality," she said, her low voice trembling a little. "You see, Nell, my husband and I haven't quarreled exactly; that is to say—well, I knew I wasn't Mr. Jarroman's daughter, and I wanted him to know it, too, but for some one else's sake I promised not to tell him until I had seen Mr. Jarroman first. And I waited and waited for Mr. Jarroman to come back, and all the time I was keeping things secret from Wilfred that he had every right to know, and spending your money."

Nell gave an affectionate snort and passed her a plate of evil looking pastries.

"Then a woman who had known both you and me as babies turned up. A dear soul—a Mrs. Jarrott—she said she used to visit you when you were a little girl. In that home you were sent to—"

"Cor! I remember 'er!" exclaimed Nell, and launched into a pithy description of her benefactress.

"Yes, that's Mrs. Jarrott," nodded Nadia. "She meant well. She knew I wasn't Penelope Jarroman and she was afraid I'd been imposed on. But she chose an evening when Wilfred was at home, and he saw by my face, I suppose, that I had known before, and after she'd gone he—"

"Went off the deep end," suggested Nell helpfully. "So you slung yer 'ook! What made yer come 'ere?"

"I felt I ought to be here, and I thought you wouldn't mind," answered Nadia simply. "I've no money unless I can earn it. This place is all I can really afford. I didn't think you'd be coming back, of course, when the house in Crescent street is really yours!"

Nell swung her worn velvet shoe on the extreme edge of her foot.

"Where does yer 'ol man come in?" she prompted.

"By now he knows why I kept silent. I just wanted to be out of the way while he found out, and to be by myself a little, and especially to be able to tell him I'd got work when I meet him again."

"And when'll that be?"

"I said next week."

Nell's foot swung reflectively.

"'Ere, I nearly made the biggest mistake o' me life up there—and I've made a few in my time. Yer know wot I did? Well, I cocked me eye at a real gent—lastaways, 'e weren't far off, and it wasn't 'is fault 'e wasn't born rich. Came as near as anythink, I did, to givin' Ben the chuck on account o' 'im. Not that I thought about 'im, like I did about Ben, mind yer, but 'e was a gent, and Ben—well, yer've seen Ben, ain't cher? But I soon fahnd aht as Ben's my sort and the other bloke weren't. Wasn't 'is fault. Blame it on ter me, if yer like, but there it is. 'An' look 'ere. There was a bloke come to see Ben yesterday. Know wot 'e sez? Sez 'e comes from me dad and sez 'e's goin' to set Ben up in the 'ardware in the Ol' Kent road with as much stock as 'e can cram into the place, and a year's rent pld."

"Splendid!" said Nadia, laying her slender hand on Nell's. "You'll help him in shop, won't you, Nell?"

"Dessay I shall, but that ain't wot I'm talkin' about," said Nell, gripping her hand. "It comes to this 'ere. You an' yore 'ol man wouldn't give a thank'er for that little business wot's goin' to be ours. An' I wouldn't give'er a thank yer, neither, for that there Rawson 'angin' 'round and watchin' er while yer eatin' yer dinner. Used ter fair give me the creeps, 'e did. And sez he all like 'im," she added with profound conviction.

Nell was in a confiding mood. For an hour or more she stumbled and groped for self-expression. Nadia listened in silence until the uneven flow of self-revelation spent itself in characteristic fashion.

"Well, can't keep jarin' all day. Must 'ave given you the 'eadache, I must. Ben comes out 'is shift at four, an' I'm goin' dahn ter the gas works to meet him. See yer tonight, if you ain't 'ad the sense to 'op it fer yer own sake. S'long."

Nell swung out of the cottage. Nadia sat on, thinking.

How difficult everything was! From Nell she had learned of Jarroman's visit to Doucester House. She had always imagined that the moment news of his return was brought to her she would fly to him and tell him everything, thank him for all his kindness, avert his hostility from Lady Doucester, and go away with Wilfred, leaving Nell in ungrudging possession. And now she was here alone in Nell's house. Mr. Jarroman had come too late to save her from the misery that had driven her here. She wondered wretchedly would she, as she had prophesied, and Mr. Jarroman determined to make public that old affair of the Camden fortune which Nadia herself was so willing to forget? Lady Doucester had seemed so sure of Mr. Jarroman's vindictiveness, although in Nadia's bruised heart he stood always for kindness and an instinctive sympathy that healed.

A knock fell on the door.

SPLIT THREATENS TRADES COUNCIL ON RADICAL RULE

Electrical Workers Voice "One Union" Protest.

Domination of the Chicago Federation of Labor by leaders who are charged with being too friendly with the I. W. W. and other radical elements led to an open threat last night by one of the largest and most influential labor unions in the city to withdraw from the federation. The action of this union—Electrical Workers, No. 134—forebodes a similar action by other unions. Irwin Knott, business agent of Electrical Workers, No. 9 announced that his organization intended to follow the example set by No. 134.

The revolt was the direct result of action taken at the last meeting of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 134, which was introduced by Michael J. Boyle, business agent of the union, and followed in part by the question of "industrial unionism." The question of "industrial unionism" is the one which led to the split between the American Federation of Labor and the I. W. W., the former opposing, the latter advocating the "one big union" idea.

Boyle Offers Resolution.

The resolution adopted last night by the electrical workers distinctly cites the cause of disagreement. It was introduced by Michael J. Boyle, business agent of the union, and followed in part by the question of "industrial unionism." The question of "industrial unionism" is the one which led to the split between the American Federation of Labor and the I. W. W., the former opposing, the latter advocating the "one big union" idea.

"Resolved, That we of Local 134 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers refuse to approve or endorse said resolution, and that our officers are hereby instructed to advise the Chicago Federation of Labor that we are paying our per capita tax to it, that it stands for craft unions as enunciated by the American Federation of Labor."

"And that we believe that our labor interests can best be served at this critical time by promoting harmony among the existing trade unions rather than by injecting dissension by advocating industrial unionism."

Threaten to Withdraw.

"Be it further resolved, That our officers are hereby instructed that unless the Chicago Federation of Labor refrains from advocating industrial unionism we of local 134 will stop paying our per capita tax."

"The amalgamation propaganda is being spread by men who are closely identified with the I. W. W. movement," asserted Boyle.

"There are, I should judge, five or six leaders of the movement in Chicago who were requested to leave Seattle because of the discord they caused among the workers there. Their work here is not to bring peace and harmony between the workers and employers, but to plant seeds of distrust and discontent which usually result in a crop of industrial disputes."

UNION LIBERTY COMPANY DENIES IT IS BANKRUPT

In a petition filed in the United States District court yesterday by attorneys representing the Union Liberty company, a merchandising concern against which an involuntary petition of bankruptcy was filed Tuesday, the organization denies that it is insolvent and asks the court to dismiss the petition.

It was alleged in the bankruptcy petition filed Tuesday that clients of the firm who had given money to be sent to Poland had been "cheated," as the money had not been received abroad.

In the petition filed yesterday the firm denied that any stock had been sold during the last six months, and asserted that all stock sold before that had been disposed of according to law.

SIAMESE TWINS' BURIAL AWAITS WORD OF FATHER

Casket to Accommodate Pair Ordered.

What disposition is to be made of the bodies of the Blazek sisters, Josefka and Rosa, "Siamese Twins," who died early yesterday morning at the West End hospital, will depend upon the reply of Frank Blazek, the father, in Chevechov, in the province of Milenka, Bohemia.

At Chicago Frank Blazek, the women's brother, sent a cablegram to the father asking his will in the matter. There is a strong possibility that the bodies will be sent home for burial. If not, they will in all likelihood be turned over to some reputable institution in America for scientific purposes.

Blazek, who spoke through an interpreter, opposed bitterly a suggested post-mortem examination. Dr. Benjamin H. Breakstone, chief surgeon at the West End hospital had urged the action.

Idea Is Abandoned.

In the office of John P. Chastka, undertaker, at 3440 West 26th street, Frank Blazek, J. L. Traska, attorney, and Serg. George Scrivener, chief investigator for Coroner Hoffman, discussed the post-mortem examination.

After a protracted debate, the idea was abandoned. The undertaker set about to prepare the bodies for burial at once, and ordered a casket that would accommodate both bodies.

Frank Blazek, the 12 year old son of Rosa, is at the home of Joseph Chastka, a brother-in-law, at 6125 South Washington avenue. He will be taken to his grandparents in Bohemia by his uncle, Frank, shortly. The boy will be heir to the twins' estate. Attorney Traska said, unless unforeseen complications arise.

"He will surely receive the share of the estate belonging to his mother," Traska declared. "But the question is, whether he is the son of both twins, instead of only one. The sisters had several organs in common, and both nursed him as a baby. The case is unparalleled in legal history."

Don Not Consulted.

"The statement that the boy's permission was asked to operate on the twins, and was refused, is ridiculous," the lawyer continued. "He wasn't even consulted in the matter."

The twins died yesterday morning. They had been taken to the hospital last Saturday, suffering from jaundice. In a day or two Rosa appeared to be recovering, but Josefka contracted pneumonia. On Wednesday afternoon both lapsed into unconsciousness.

Telegrams predicting the minute of the death, and offering suggestions as to treatment, were received in a constant stream up to the last minute, from all parts of the country.

Hangs Himself in Home.

CHARLES MUNDAY ANNOUNCES HE'S "COMING BACK"

Charles B. Munday intends to "come back."

Yesterday he announced plans for a business reorganization of his milling interests which he is confident will enable him to repay every depositor who loaned money in the wrecked La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank. It was his first statement since his return four and one-half months ago from Joliet penitentiary.

Where he served eleven months for conspiracy.

The La Salle street bank closed its doors in 1914 after being in operation only two years. Founded in 1912, the institution had a stormy career under the leadership of former Senator Lorimer and Munday. In its later days it was constantly in financial hot water and finally collapsed.

Munday and Lorimer were indicted and tried for conspiracy in connection with the wrecking of the bank. After a six year fight Munday was sent to the penitentiary.

Before entering on his business career in Chicago, Munday had been successful in the milling and jobbing business at it. I never should have left the country. But if my health lasts I'll pay every creditor."

"I never should have entered the banking game," said Mr. Munday yesterday. "I was out of my element. I knew the milling business and I made money at it. I never should have left the country. But if my health lasts I'll pay every creditor."

Mrs. Benson said her husband had been out of work since December.

New Tulip Feature of West Town Flower Show

A new specimen of tulip, unlike any ever before grown, was officially named for Mrs. Warren G. Harding at the West Town exposition yesterday afternoon. The bloom, of which there are only three in existence, is unusually large and hardy and its coloring is mahogany brown and lilac rose stripes on a white background. The tulip was grown by Peter Pearson, president of the Cook County Flower Growers' association, and is a feature of the Easter flower show at the exposition.

THE KERNEL—THE TIP

PROMISE OF SIX CENT FARE MADE BY MAYOR'S ALLY

Charge for Transfer and Wage Cut in Plan.

Ald. John P. Garner, regarded as Mayor Thompson's closest personal friend in the city council, made the flat statement at a public session of the city council traction committee yesterday that a 6 cent fare will be ordered by the Illinois commerce commission next week. In circles equally as close to the London-Thompson-Small organization, it was asserted that the order will be issued tomorrow if it can be got ready in time, but that it will certainly come next week.

Others Had Same Report.

In circles equally as close to the London-Thompson-Small organization, it was asserted that the order will be issued tomorrow if it can be got ready in time, but that it will certainly come next week.

Ald. Garner's unqualified prediction came in the midst of an acrimonious debate on the Illinois commerce commission next week. In circles equally as close to the London-Thompson-Small organization, it was asserted that the order will be issued tomorrow if it can be got ready in time, but that it will certainly come next week.

HARVESTER CO.

REPORTS REAR DIVIDENDS
DECLARATION LOSS

BY O. A. MATHER.

The annual report of the International Harvester company for 1921, which President Harold F. McCormick characterizes as "the worst in the history of the agricultural implement business," shows an operating profit of $4,449,915, but after payment of preferred stock dividends of $4,215,678, common stock dividends of $5,112,736, and stock dividends in common stock of $3,645,414, there was a deficit of $8,235,944. This deficit was taken from surplus, which accordingly stands at $59,526,787. Last year the common stock cash dividend rate was reduced to 5 from 7 per cent but semi-annual stock dividends of 2 per cent were paid.

Profits From Foreign Trade.

Reflecting the troubles of the American farmer last year, the company's statement in the United States produced no profits and that all profits were derived from foreign trade. This also was despite the fact that the general depression during the year was made. Had not the company adopted conservatism in valuing inventories during the last few years, the 1921 balance sheet would have shown a net loss exceeding $20,000,000.

"At the present time the situation is showing some improvement," Mr. McCormick adds. "The agricultural implement industry is a basic one, and so long as agriculture lives there will be a need and call for labor saving agricultural machines. Increased sales of this company's product will come with the return of agricultural prosperity. It is felt, however, that the period of readjustment will continue through 1922 and that the company cannot expect any marked improvement in its business during the year."

Plants Resume Operations.

After heavy curtailment of operations in the United States and Canada during last summer and early fall, resumption was begun in November. New plant construction, deferred during the general depression, also has been resumed.

The company entered 1922 in good financial condition. All loans made from banks during 1921 were liquidated. Current liabilities were reduced from $44,528,000 to $27,607,000, while current assets were reduced from $20,800,000 to $25,540,000. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities stands approximately 6 to 1.

This is a natural incident of the approaching quarterly settlements on Saturday. Government deposits fell $1,308,000. Gold reserves declined $1,348,000. Total reserves receded $1,231,000.

The system's ratio of total reserves to deposits decreased 100.747 to 100.746. The combined ratio of total reserves to deposits combined fell to 77.8 from 78.4 per cent in the preceding week.

The New York Federal Reserve bank shows gold and total reserves increased $3,542,000 and $24,193,000, respectively. Loans increased $5,553,000; bills bought, $1,426,000; total bills, $17,890,000. Total deposits expanded $29,925,000, due entirely to the member banks' reserve credits increasing $49,970,000. Federal reserve note circulation declined $70,000. The ratio of total reserves to deposits and federal reserve note liabilities combined remained unchanged at 86.7 per cent.

Chicago Bank's Report.

The Chicago Federal Reserve bank shows gold reserves dropped $30,465,000, the result chiefly of a sale of gold through the central gold settlement fund. Total reserves receded $30,180,000. Loans expanded $15,136,000. Bills bought declined $165,000. Total bills expanded $1,651,700. Total earning assets increased $20,031,000.

Total deposits declined $13,941,000, due entirely to the member banks' reserve credits receding $14,775,000. Federal reserve note circulation increased $2,924,000. The ratio of total reserves to deposits and federal reserve note liabilities combined fell to 74.1 from 77.6 per cent in the preceding week.
